New Building To House Bell Business Office

THE OLD AL THORNTON HOME on E. Court St., is about to be overrun by progress and growth of Washington C. H. Paul Dou gherty, manager of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., here, looks over the old home that is being torn down to make way for a new

The business office of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. here is to be moved into a new building on E.
Court St. by the end of the summer. The exact time of the move is still uncertain, but Paul Dougherty, commercial manager, said "we hope to be in by early in October."

Although rumors of the move have been going the rounds here for a couple of weeks, Dougherty declined to discuss them until Thursday morning. Although still lacking some of the details, Dougherty did outline some of the fundamentals of the project.

The new Ohio Bell office building is to go up on the site of what has long been known as the Al Thornton home on the north side of E. Court St., about a block east of North St.

The old brick Thornton home now is being torn down to make way for the new building which is to be put up by the Cupp Construction
Co. for Mr. and Mrs. Bud Brownell.

Dougherty said Ohio Bell would lease the new office from Mr. and Mrs. Brownell.

THE HOUSE which is now succumbing to progress was built 75 to 80 years ago. Following the death of Mrs. Thornton about three years

J. A. Blakeman, 432 Clyburn Avenue, is convinced that English sparrows have a lot of sense as well as a large amount of intuition and initiative.

When you read this, I am sure you will join Jim in believing that the lowly English sparrows are not so dumb after all.

Sunday afternoon while Jim, his wife and a friend were sitting on the veranda at the Blakeman home, they saw English sparrows building a nest in a box veranda post which was partly open at the top.

To shut them out of the top of the post, Jim placed a tin can on top of the post.

A few moments later a sparrow flew up, looked at the can a moment, then placing his head against the can, proceeded to push in an effort to move it from the opening to his nest. It didn't budge.

The sparrow flew away and in a few moments was back with another one. They both tackled the job of pushing the can from the top of the post, all to no avail.

Then they flew away but soon returned with a third sparrow. They all joined in pushing the can and finally it toppled off the post.

Then a smaller can, filled with crushed stone was placed over the entrance to the nest.

Back came the first sparrow and he inspected the can carefully, then flew away and brought its mate.

Instead of trying to remove the bits of stone from the can, tossing them far from the nest to empty the can so it could be pushed aside.

It was then Jim decided that the birds were entitled to nest in the post, and the can of crushed stone was moved to allow the sparrows free access to their nest inside the box post.

U. S. Officials Believe Part Of Khrushchev Talk Missing

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials
believe a big chunk is missing from the version of Nikita Khrushchev's attack on Joseph Stalin which the State Department released this week.

American diplomats and agents abroad have been ordered to

(which may run between 10,000
and 11,000 words) and get it to Washington at once if they find it.

highest priority.

Army Reserve Scheduled To Be Cut Sharply

475,000 To Be Dropped
From List; 500,000
Others Face Transfer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army announced today it will discharge 475,000 ready reservists and transfer 500,000 others to the standby reserve list.

It described the action as a wholesale effort to terminate the military service liability of World War II and Korean veterans and to weed out dead wood.

An Army announcement said this screening process will take place in the 12 months starting July 1. When completed, the Army said, it will leave in the ready reserve only those who are fit, who possess needed military qualifications and who will be available for immediate active duty in time of national emergency.

The ready reserve is composed of individuals and organized units who would be called to active duty promptly in time of war or national emergency declared by Congress or the President.

THE STANDBY reserve is liable for active service only in time of war or in an emergency declared by Congress.

The Army's ready reserve now has a nominal strength of 1,885-000, exclusive of the National Guard, which will number 407,000 by the end of this month. The present strength of the standby reserve is only 8,500.

The Army said most of the reservists who will be discharged from the ready category are those who saw active service prior to June 19, 1951. Most of this group also served in Korea.

Priorities for transfer from the ready to the standby reserve will be given to reservists who served in Korea at any time between June 26, 1950, and July 27, 1953.

The Army said, however, that ready reservists who now are members of organized units and want to continue their military duty will be retained. Young men who have volunteered for the ready reserve and who have had no prior active service will not be included in the weeding out program, the Army said.

The screening program will be automatic, the Army explained, and reservists who do not object to discharge or transfer need not write to the Army.

U. S. Officials Believe Part Of Khrushchev Talk Missing

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials
believe a big chunk is missing
from the version of Nikita Khrush-
chev's attack on Joseph Stalin
which the State Department released this week.

American diplomats and agents
abroad have been ordered to hunt for any missing portion (which may run between 10,000
and 11,000 words) and get it to
Washington at once if they find it.
The search has been assigned the highest priority.

What is missing, authorities here feel, is a long section believed to have dealt with a denunciation of Stalin's conduct of foreign affairs.

It could be especially significant for the free nations to know what Communist party boss Khrushchev said about these matters because it would indicate Khrushchev's own thinking.

President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday he thinks the Khrushchev speech was designed primarily for Soviet domestic purposes.

IF THIS IS correct, whatever Khrushchev said on foreign policy would be written not for foreign but for Soviet ears. The speech was delivered in late February to a secret meeting of the Soviet Communist Party Congress.

Subjects not covered in the text given out Monday by the State Department include Stalin's handling of Russia's relations with Red China, the Korean War, Soviet pressures against Iran and Turkey, Western formation of the Atlantic Alliance, postwar treatment of Germany, the Marshall Plan for European recovery and the anti-NATO Warsaw Pact.

All these are matters which might logically be expected to appear in such a speech.

The State Department said its version of Khrushchev's denunciation of the dead dictator had been prepared for the guidance of Communist party leaders in some country outside Russia.

It is understood this was one of the Eastern European satellites and not Yugoslavia. There have been reports that the speech reached Washington through the French government. It is possible also that it fell into non-Communist hands from the Communist party leadership of some country in Western Europe.

Posse Hunts Mysterious Animal Near Jeff

Stories of a strange animal are still causing quite a stir in the area of the Hidy Road and along Paint Creek in Paint and Jefferson Townships.

The mysterious animal has been reported seen by two or three persons, who describe it as being more than two feet tall and several feet long, with bushy tail and heavy shoulders and large head.

Farmers in the area are very much concerned regarding their small pigs, lambs and chickens.

Some even fear for the safety of their families.

Homer Harrison, who resides in the vicinity in which the animal has been reported, expressed the belief that the mysterious animal might be what is known as a "grave digger," a rare animal in the country generally. He said he could not recall the real name of the animal, which has long been referred to as a "grave digger," because it digs into graves to feed on human bodies.

Harrison said he was basing this vague and grisly identification of the animal on the eye-witness descriptions.

He said he knew of one being killed in one of the western states while he resided there, after the animal had dug into two or three graves and molested bodies.

A few weeks ago, Harrison recalled, it was found necessary to fill in a large hole in the Hidy Cemetery on the Hidy Road.

The hole had been dug so close to a monument it caused it to lean. At the time it was believed a ground hog had dug the hole. Now the theory has been advanced that it might have been dug by the animal now being sought.

Harrison makes it clear that his idea is based solely upon information given by those who saw the animal.

After the beast had been reported seen again early Wednesday evening and later heard along Paint Creek, Max Allen and others in the community formed a posse with guns, and started out to hunt the animal.

Sheriff Orland Hays and Deputy Don Thompson joined the hunt about 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night, upon call from Allen.

But the search was of no avail.
The animal does not bark, but makes a whining noise and emits vicious growls, those who have reported seeing it said.

The fact that the beast has a bushy tail minimizes the possibility that it might be a stray mountain lion, the possemen say.

Those who have reported seeing the beast declare that it is not a dog or other animal with which they are familiar.

Apparently the animal prowls late in the day and in the early hours of the night and has plenty of cover in which to hide along Paint Creek as well as in the wheat fields adjacent.

Texas Youth Is Freed In Odd Slaying

FAIRFIELD, Tex. (AP)—A jury acquitted Jimmy Barker of murder last night after the 21-year-old man testified the victim's widow offered him $100 to say he did it.

Barker said he was hunting rabbits on the Hubert Clanton farm three miles east of Athens, Tex., last Feb. 16 when Mrs. Clanton hurried toward him from the barn and said:

"I'll give you $100 to say you did it."

Barker said he didn't know what
Mrs. Clanton was talking about.
He testified she whipped out a pistol and fired at him several times.

Mrs. Clanton denied Barker's story. She said she believed Barker shot her husband, a 44-year-old farmer, with a 22 rifle.

Barker repudiated a signed confession attributed to him while he was held in jail shortly after the slaying. He told the jury he can sign his name but cannot read. He said he did not know what he was signing and was frightened.

Officials did not make any immediate move to bring charges against Mrs. Clanton.

New Polio Total Well Below '55

WASHINGTON (AP)—New polio cases numbered 121 last week.
This was an increase of nine from those in the week ended May 26 but was less than half the 248 reported in the same 1955 week.

A Public Health Service spokesman pointed out that the total of 797 cases reported this disease is not far below the 846 in the corresponding 1952 period. Yet large outbreaks in July, August and September of 1952 made that the record polio year. The 797 cases since April 1 compared with 1,471 in the similar 1955 span.

Ohio GOP Chief To Visit Adams

U. S., 21 Other Countries OK Reciprocal Tariff Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States announced today a long list of reciprocal tariff cuts negotiated with 21 other countries at Geneva and said "free world trade will be better off" as a result.

Four months of give-and-take lowered tariff barriers on trade items aggregating more than $2½ billion a year among the nations concerned.

The United States gave direct tariff cuts or concessions on foreign imports valued at $677 million in 1954. Other indirect cuts brought this total to $811 million, the State Department said.

In return, the United States obtained direct duty concessions on American exports valued at $400 million in 1954. Indirect benefits were not estimated.

None of the U. S. tariff reductions apply to imports from Soviet bloc countries, but they do apply to all free world nations.

THERE WAS no estimate of the amount of tariff revenue that would be lost.

Ike Backers Hope To Avoid Cut In Funds

Rayburn Joining GOP Chiefs In Pressing For Full Request

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leaders waged a touch-and-go battle today to persuade reluctant House members to shore up President Eisenhower's heavily cut foreign aid program.

In advance of showdown voting, Speaker Rayburn of Texas and Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts were outwardly optimistic about their joint move to restore more than half the foreign aid slash voted by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

But supporters of Committee Chairman Richards (D-SC)—and there were many among rank-and-file members of both parties—seemed equally confident he could make the $1.1 billion committee cut in Eisenhower's $4.9 billion program stick.

Eisenhower declared yesterday
it would be "tragic" if Congress doesn't support his program designed to bolster free nations against communism.

House leaders faced a growing demand for a cutoff in U. S. aid to Yugoslavia and other "neutralist" countries.

RAYBURN and Richards both joined administration forces in opposing this move.

Eisenhower agreed that "where we stand" in relation to Yugoslavia "has to be re-evaluated."

The administration wants to be free to continue help to Yugoslavia if the restudy Eisenhower mentioned indicates President Tito remains neutral as between Moscow and the West.

Eisenhower had asked $30 million in economic aid for Yugoslavia in the year starting next July 1, plus a secret amount of military assistance. The House committee voted to cut the $30 million in half. It's $1 billion cut in arms aid also presumably would affect Yugoslavia.

Rayburn picked Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark) to spearhead the bipartisan funds restoration drive with an amendment which would put $600 million of the committee cut back in the bill.

Hays, a Foreign Affairs Committee member, said he understands the $600 million figure was advanced by Eisenhower himself and "this is one area in which I think we should value the President's recommendation."

Richards said a number of congressmen have told him they will vote against the bill altogether if the amount is increased.

He had on his side the parliamentary tradition that a cut already approved by the committee is usually upheld on the House Floor. On the other side were the weight of the administration and the influence of Rayburn.

IN SIX HOURS of debate yesterday, much opposition to the Eisenhower program came from members of the President's own party.

Rep. Mason (R-Ill) called it a "foreign giveaway program."
Rep. Nicholson (R-Mass) said he was for "spending money for our own defense without taking care of these foreigners."

Rep. Flood (D-Pa) was practically a lone voice in calling for enactment of the full $4.9 billion. But a number of others indicated they wanted at least part of the committee cut restored.

Philosophy Prof Sued For Punching Coed, 30, In Nose

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Ella
Griffiths Lattimer, 30-year-old senior at the University of California in Los Angeles, sued Dr.
Donald A. Platt for $10,000 yesterday, alleging the philosophy professor punched her in the nose in an argument over Socrates and Plato.

S. M. Irmas Jr., Mrs. Latti-mer's attorney, said she and the professor disagreed May 2 over which of the two ancient Greeks was the true philosopher.

Dr. Platt declined to comment on the suit. He was willing to talk about Socrates, however.

"He made the people so angry they forced him to drink poison," Dr. Platt said. "Just shows what happens when you tell the truth."

Eisenhower had asked $30 million in economic aid to Yugoslavia in the year starting next July 1, plus a secret amount of military assistance. The House committee voted to cut the $30 million in half. It's $1 billion cut in arms aid also presumably would affect Yugoslavia.

Rayburn picked Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark) to spearhead the bipartisan funds restoration drive with an amendment which would put $600 million of the committee cut back in the bill.

Hays, a Foreign Affairs Committee member, said he understands the $600 million figure was advanced by Eisenhower himself and "this is one area in which I think we should value the President's recommendation."

Richards said a number of congressmen have told him they will vote against the bill altogether if the amount is increased.

He had on his side the parliamentary tradition that a cut already approved by the committee is usually upheld on the House floor. On the other side were the weight of the administration and the influence of Rayburn.

IN SIX HOURS of debate yesterday, much opposition to the Eisenhower program came from members of the President's own party.

Rep. Mason (R-Ill) called it a "foreign giveaway program." Rep. Nicholson (R-Mass) said he was for "spending money for our own defense without taking care of these foreigners."

Rep. Flood (D-Pa) was practically a lone voice in calling for enactment of the full $4.9 billion. But a number of others indicated they wanted at least part of the committee cut restored.

Philosophy Prof Sued For Punching Coed, 30, In Nose

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Elin Griffiths Lattimer, 30-year-old senior at the University of California in Los Angeles, sued Dr. Donald A. Piatt for $10,000 yesterday, alleging the philosophy professor punched her in the nose in an argument over Socrates and Plato.

S. M. Irmes Jr., Mrs. Lattimer's attorney, said she and the professor disagreed May 2 over which of the two ancient Greeks was the true philosopher.

Dr. Piatt declined to comment on the suit. He was willing to talk about Socrates, however.

"He made the people so angry they forced him to drink poison," Dr. Piatt said. "Just shows what happens when you tell the truth."

8 Russian Clergymen Start Tour Of Ohio Countryside

TOLEDO (AP) — The eight-man Soviet religious delegation, invited to this country by the National Council of Churches, are making a day's tour through the Ohio countryside.

The Russian religious leaders were scheduled today to visit three communities — Mansfield, Wooster and Seville.

In Mansfield, the Russian church YMCA-YWCA building. At Wooster leaders planned to inspect the new College, they will attend a conference on Christian college education and tour the college campus. In Seville they will visit churches, receive a welcome at the Presbyterian Church, and have supper in private homes.

The Russians are scheduled to leave Cleveland tonight for Philadelphia.

The Soviet delegation last night attended a dinner given by the Toledo Council of Churches and heard discussion of a number of different council problems.

The Russians are highly impressed by what they are seeing of American churches.

"I am very interested in the broad extent of the practical work being done by American churches," said one of the Russian churchmen. He mentioned in particular the church social activities, Sunday school, work among young people and young married people. He said that in the Soviet Union churches had never gone in for this sort of thing.

Archbishop Gustav Turs, the head of the Latvian Lutheran Church, paid a big compliment to American churches for the assistance they have given refugees from his country. He said:

"I express my gratitude to the

No Clear-Cut Dem Favorite Revealed Yet

WASHINGTON (AP) — No clear-cut favorite for the Democratic presidential nomination appears today, although three-fourths of the states have made their initial moves.

Thirty-eight states, including all those selecting by primaries, have now chosen national convention delegates. They will cast 1,108 votes.

With 686½ convention votes needed for a presidential nomination out of a total vote of 1,372, the latest Associated Press tabulation of pledged votes and first-ballot preferences expressed in polls showed today:

Adlai Stevenson	266
Estes Kefauver	166
Others	306
Uncommitted	370
Total	1,108

The "others" column covers 11 individuals, the five top men being Gov. Averell Harriman, 93, including 80 won in New York Tuesday; Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, 56½; Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio, 54; Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, 46; and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, 44. Ten states and three territories still must name delegates with 252 votes. New York also has delegates-at-large with 12 votes yet to select. Even if all the remaining 264 votes went to Stevenson he still would be far from a majority.

HIS SUPPORTERS, as well as Harriman backers, see prospects for picking up many more votes for their candidates in the uncommitted column.

The 10 states still to name delegates are Arkansas, Arizona, Colorado, Connecticut, Kentucky, Mississippi, New Mexico, Tennessee, Virginia and Washington, Hawaii, Canal Zone and Virgin Islands also have not yet selected.

Forty states have named Republican delegates with 1,121 national convention votes out of a total of 1,323. President Eisenhower has 960 delegates favoring his renomination with only 662 needed.

He also has 70 others being held for him by favorite sons in Ohio and Montana. One favors Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts, and 90 are uncommitted.

Eisenhower's million-plus Republican vote in the California presidential primary Tuesday has raised a challenge to Democratic hopes for carrying the state in November.

Stevenson went over the million mark too in trouncing Kefauver on the Democratic ticket. But Eisenhower, unopposed, came out of the party balloting with a higher tally.

Nearly complete returns from California's 24,160 precincts gave: Democratic, 21,746 precincts; Stevenson 1,041,303; Kefauver 628,030.

Republican, 20,877 precincts; Eisenhower 1,165,535.

The total vote was estimated as close to 60 per cent of the 5½ million registration, including 3,039,873 Democrat and 2,277,530 Republicans.

Slavs Order Wheat

BELGRADE (AP) — Yugoslavia, whose wheat barrel has drawn on the United States in recent years, today announced plans to import the grain from Russia.

Youth Accused Of Strangling Cincy Boy, 5

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police said a 20-year-old youth they describe as illiterate and with a record of sex offenses against children today held to his story that he strangled Richard Townsend, 5, on May 20.

But the youth's parents insisted he could not be guilty, declaring their son William Roy Watson was at home during the day and evening that Richard was strangled with his own belt. A similar story came from other children of Mr. and Mrs. William Watson.

Detectives Wilbur Earle and Russell Jackson, who took the youth's signed statement, said Watson reenacted the strangling at the scene. They said he gave "intimate details, all correct."

Police have been searching for a red-haired boy ever since the Townsend lad's body was found. Yesterday Patrolmen Bob Wilson and Paul Wueller saw Watson and believed he fitted the general description of the boy being sought. They stopped him and said they asked, "What do you think we want to talk to you about?"

They said he replied "Why the killing of that boy up in the alley, I suppose."

He was taken to police headquarters and detectives said he then admitted the strangulation.

Earle and Jackson said he told them he was attempting to molest the Townsend boy and strangled him "on an impulse."

Battered Body Found In Woods

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The battered body of a man identified as Clarence Keith Cossin, 48, of Columbus was found Wednesday in a wooded area here.

Coroner Dr. Robert A. Evans said Cossin died from several severe blows about the head, possibly administered with an ax or hatchet.

Cossin's body was found by four boys camping in the area. He had been dead for two or three days.

Ship Ahoy, Kids!

WARREN (AP) — Harding High School is offering a nautical course in outboard motor boats, aquaplanes and water skiing.

National Council of Churches and to every Christian parish in the United States which, with Christian love, made its facilities available for worship of my brothers in faith and nationality—Latvian Lutherans.

"The homeland has not forgotten them. It prays for them and through me it greets them. Let them not forget their native land."

Archbishop Turs' declaration seemed a highly unusual one, coming from a Soviet citizen. The Communist line has always been up to this point, vicious attack on the United States and all Americans engaged in helping anti-Communist refugees. Soviet propaganda has continually pictured the United States as engaging in "slave trade" in human beings for the assistance America has given refugees and displaced persons.

Perhaps the most chipper of the Soviet church leaders these days is Armenian Bishop Sahak.

The bishop has been for a long time very deaf and could hear only when a person shouted directly into his ear. He had an ancient ear trumpet which worked very poorly. The National Council of Churches, seeing the bishop's difficulty, purchased him a modern American transistor hearing aid. Bishop Sahak is delighted. He goes around telling everybody: "Stop shouting at me!"

New Polio Total Well Below '55

WASHINGTON (AP) — New polio cases numbered 121 last week. This was an increase of nine from those in the week ended May 26 but was less than half the 248 reported in the same 1955 week.

A Public Health Service spokesman pointed out that the total of 797 cases reported this disease is not far below the 846 in the corresponding 1952 period. Yet large outbreaks in July, August and September of 1952 made that the record polio year. The 797 cases since April 1 compared with 1,471 in the similar 1955 span.

Ohio GOP Chief To Visit Adams

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Republican Chairman Ray C. Bliss was scheduled to call on Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams today to talk over the possibility of President Eisenhower visiting Ohio during the 1956 election campaign.

The GOP state chairman plans to wind up a two-day series of talks with Republican leaders here and return to Columbus tonight.

U. S., 21 Other Countries OK Reciprocal Tariff Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States announced today a long list of reciprocal tariff cuts negotiated with 21 other countries at Geneva and said "free world trade will be better off" as a result.

Four months of give-and-take lowered tariff barriers on trade items aggregating more than $2½ billion a year among the nations concerned.

Bargaining among the 22 nations The United States gave direct tariff cuts or concessions on foreign imports valued at $677 million in 1954. Other indirect cuts brought this total to $811 million, the State Department said.

In return, the United States obtained direct duty concessions on American exports valued at $400 million in 1954. Indirect benefits were not estimated.

None of the U. S. tariff reductions apply to imports from Soviet bloc countries, but they do apply to all free world nations.

THERE WAS no estimate of the amount of tariff revenue that would be lost.

The first phase of U. S. reductions are due to go into effect June 30. The U. S. trade agreements team was authorized to cut tariffs up to 15 per cent of their level on Jan. 1, 1955, with the reductions divided equally over the next three years. Most cuts by other countries are to be made effective all at once.

Concessions obtained by the United States covered a wide range of agricultural and industrial products, ranging from iron and steel products to beer, shrimp and oysters.

Sixteen countries gave concessions on a variety of chemical products including plastic resins, antibiotics, photographic film and synthetic textile fibers.

Seven countries including Japan, Britain and Germany dropped duties on U. S. iron and steel products.

Other cuts affect exports of heavy machinery, office equipment, canned fruits and vegetables, airplanes and petroleum products.

Dental Society In Meeting Here

Talk About Watches
One Of Highlights

Thirty members of the Rehinkle Dental Society from a 10-county area attended a meeting at the Country Club here Wednesday and enjoyed a chicken and steak dinner, a business session and program and completed the day with a round of golf in the afternoon.

Dr. David E. Michael, of Jackson, president, conducted the business session, at which officers were elected and decision reached to hold the next meeting at the Snow Hill Country Club, Sept. 13.

The new officers elected were: president, Dr. Roy Rogers, Jr., of Hillsboro; president-elect (who will succeed Dr. Rogers), Dr. Kenneth Aumshary of Pomeroy, and vice-president, Dr. John Richards, Washington, C. H. Dr. Thomas A. Marr, Chillicothe, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

OTTICE STOOKEY, jeweler and watch repairman, who has a collection of over 1,000 watches, was the guest speaker. He gave talk on "Measuring Time, From the 13th Century".

He also showed a score or more of unusual watches, one of which dated back to the 17th century.

He took up the various methods of measuring time, from the days of the Cave men who burned grass ropes with knots in them to mark elapse of time: sun dials, time balls, hour glasses and the first mechanical time piece, made by a prisoner in jail at Nuemburg, Germany, in 1504, but it was not until nearly 100 years later that time pieces were put on the market.

The first watches (as large as alarm clocks) were carried by night watchmen, hence the name of "watch" for time pieces.

He demonstrated a "bowlathe" for work in producing hand-made watches, and in the early days of watch making, it was the only means of operating a lathe.

Old watches, odd watches, and big and little and unusual shaped watches were exhibited and one with a massie chain and used by one of the early railroaders were included in the display.

Western Union Contract Gets OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Agreement on a two-year contract has ended the threat of a nationwide walk-out of Western Union Telegraph Co. workers.

The company announced the agreement provides a 13-cent hourly pay boost for its 45,000 workers retroactive to June 1, along with improved pensions and messenger allowances. Effective next Jan. 1, another 5 cents an hour is to be provided to adjust individual wage scales.

The workers had averaged $1.88 an hour. The unions had sought a 15-cent hourly pay boost and another 7 cents for adjustments.

Industrial Team
Leads First Day

Thirteen new members were signed up for the Chamber of Commerce on the first day of the three-day campaign.

And, the five-man team of industrialists that goes under the name of Dodgers was at the top of the standing in this mythical baseball game. The team made up of Joe Peters, the manager, Paul Rodenfels, Clarence Cooper, Walter Rettig and Bill Williams took the lead in the four-team scramble when it reported five new members signed up Wednesday, the opening day of the campaign.

Cooper took individual honors with four new members. His reward was a package of T-bone steaks.

The Jaycee team of Mike Harrison, Jim Schwartz, Dick Willis, Dr. William Lawyer and Manager Bob Boyd took second place in the race with four new members.

Willis second, his individual with three new members, received a shaving lotion kit.

Three new members were signed up by the Board of Directors team of John Breiner, Dustin Girton, Harris Willis and George Finley to remain within striking distance of the leaders.

BUT THE Retail Merchant team of Dick Patton, Verne Haugen, Ralph Cook, Jim Evans and Manager Jack Daves was shut out on the first day.

Reports on the opening day's campaign were made at a breakfast.

Bill Stoughton said all the members signed up Wednesday were of the "new member" category.

Ike To Get New Bulganin Letter

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin has written a new letter to President Eisenhower. Soviet Ambassador Georgi N. Zarubin arranged to deliver it later today.

Since last summer Bulganin and Eisenhower have exchanged a series of letters mostly concerned with disarmament but also including a proposal made by Bulganin in January for a friendship treaty between Russia and the United States and other Western powers.

The embassy spokesman declined to comment on the subject matter of the new message.

At the time of these fires, Dougherty was with the Ohio Bell Co.'s Dayton office.

Dougherty commented that even after the office is moved about two blocks east on Court St. there will be two places in the business district where bills can be paid.

Inasmuch as that part of E. Court St. is not in a restricted residential area, approval of the zoning Board of Appeals was not necessary.

Highway Legislation Receiving More Attention

The people of Fayette County, most of whom are ardent motor car devotees, are very much in favor of good roads.

For that reason they have shown a personal interest in the attitude of our county Board of Commissioners in attempting to improve our county highways to a point where Fayette County stands near the top in counties in Ohio which have given county roads the attention they deserve.

We have many township roads which need attention in this county and most of the township trustees would like to see improvements made in them comparable with our county highways, but they do not have available road money to accomplish this result.

It is noticeable that the county, at various intervals, has taken over a heavily traveled township road, to make it a part of the county system and give it the improvement it deserves, but this cannot be done every time such action is sought because the county commissioners also are limited in the amount of road improvement money placed in their hands.

There may come a time when all this present system may be changed by law, but for the present, many of the township roads appear to be in for a continuation of using what money is available to the trustees to the best advantage under their own planning.

The highway problem is not entirely a county or state problem under the plans now being readied in Congress for new highway construction.

Special interest in this super highway bill involved two major differences which took the bill to a House-Senate conference committee. The chief point of debate centered about a formula for distributing funds and a requirement that contractors on proposed superhighways pay a so-called prevailing wage rates as determined by the Secretary of Labor. The latter provision has been opposed by many Southerners.

The highway bill calls for a vast road program throughout the United States, including a 40,000-mile network of interstate-superhighways to link 42 state capitals and most of the nation's larger cities. The federal government would put up $25 billion and the states $2.5 billion. The bill also would increase present federal aid funds to states for urban, primary, and secondary roads.

Strangely enough, the tax provisions of the bill have created little advance controversy. The superhighway system would be financed by increasing existing taxes on gasoline, tires, buses, trucks, and trailers. As in the case of the farm bill, compromises have been reached on the controversial points in the highway bill. Those states, like Ohio, that are so desperately in need of roads should be encouraged that a show-down on the superhighway program is being brought about.

Massed Navy -- Never Again

NEW YORK (AP)—A dozen years after the Normandy landing, the mightiest amphibious operation in history, many military men feel sure of one thing—mankind will never see another one like it.

The spectacle of massed navies, bombarding a foreign shore as they unleashed thousands of attacking troops, is probably a thing of the past. It is almost as outmoded as a clash between knights on horseback.

The amphibious operation is one of the oldest forms of warfare, as old as the first war canoe that landed behind a surprised enemy.

It is also one of the most imaginative and difficult of maneuvers to execute. It is always a titanic gamble, made perilous by hidden reefs and the whims of wind and weather.

When an amphibious operation succeeds, it often succeeds brilliantly. But when it fails, it is often an irretrievable disaster.

The best known example of an amphibious landing that failed is, of course, the dismal fate of "the invincible armada" of Spain.

In 1588 proud Philip II sent 136 ships to humble upstart Britain. They carried 7,000 sailors and 17,000 troops.

The British weren't quite the underdogs they have sometimes been made out to be. They engaged the Spanish armada with 137 ships, although many were small vessels. But they had superior seamanship, fought at long range, and were better organized than the loosely-knit Spanish.

After a series of disastrous battles and storms only 54 ships of the armada were able to reach home, and Spain began going downhill as a naval power. The whole operation had been poorly planned.

The Normandy landing will perhaps go down in the textbooks as the classic example of a successful amphibious operation. Just 12 years ago yesterday, it

The Inspiration Of Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel and his charming Evelyn came up to see me. It was a sad moment, for there was my friend who could not see. When the punk threw sulphuric acid into Victor's eyes, he did something about labor racketeering, about the union of the mob and the communies on the New York waterfront and elsewhere that cannot be undone.

Every time people see Victor, they will think of the lawlessness of our big cities, a lawlessness that includes not only labor racketeering and dope pushin but the frightful fear of public officials that if they fight the mob, they will lose votes and financial support.

What is the mob? It is a grouping together of individuals for the purpose of earning money by marginal and often illegal methods. Responsibility for the existence of the mob are the income tax laws, for what those who engage in these operations must do is to gather together sums of money which are not reported for income tax purposes.

There are many activities in which such men can engage: Waterfront pilferage and protection; the infiltration and control of labor unions, particularly welfare funds which can be looted where there is no adequate supervision; the dope traffic, growing larger every year — there must be a waterfront connection to make this successful.

Those who engage in the dope traffic need communist connections because dope comes now principally from Red China, although it may find its way into this country by devious routes. There must also be important banking connections. The safest country for banking in such circumstances is Switzerland where it is against the law for a bank to disclose the ownership of an account. More and more, Switzerland's banking methods will become a problem to the United States, particularly as many American munition industries are coming into the hands of aliens whose money apparently comes from Switzerland, the actual owner of the funds not being available even to government investigators.

Those engaged in these practices must coalesce in order to protect each other and to gain strength to conduct their business. They build their own political personalities, supporting their careers, either as clients of law firms or by putting extraordinary opportunities in the way of relatives and associates.

The mob moves into labor activities by numerous devices, but the aim is always the huge treasures of the unions and their welfare funds. They particularly find communist or former communist unions easy to get into or into trucking unions of various kinds. In a word, where goods are easily destroyed or damaged, where employees may want or need protection, where employers are engaged in illegitimate practices and can be blackmailed, the mob moves in. For example, a truck full of ladies' garments can be ruined by being muddled, by being seared with acid, by being burned from a lighted cigarette, etc., etc. It is therefore to the interest of the employer to pay protection. After all, it is the same as paying insurance premiums, except that whereas the insurance company pays after the damage is done, the mob undertakes to see that no damage is done and that therefore no customers are lost.

The Victor Riesel story shocked the world because his position made it a public affair. But things like that happen too often for comfort and our officials practically never catch the man. In New York, we are piling up a record of unsolved and even unreported cases which are shocking when one realizes that not too many generations ago this city boasted that the streets were safe day and night. They are not safe at night and sometimes not during the day. There are areas of the city cabmen are afraid to drive through at night. Muggings occur in public parks. And the fact does stand out that Carlo Tresca was shot by order of Moscow on a New York street; Victor

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Here are ten simple do's and don'ts you can easily follow to help keep your weight down.

As I have so often told you, you probably are overweight simply because you eat more calories than your body needs. The only way to cure this situation is to cut down on what you eat.

Health Hazard

Being overweight is a definite health hazard. You have to work harder than the average person to perform any task. And the bulk of this additional work must be performed by your heart.

Heart disease, no matter what its cause, is aggravated by overweight.

Besides, if you are greatly overweight, you are more likely to develop high blood pressure, diabetes and other diseases of the blood and kidneys.

Accident-Prone

You are more prone to accidents and excess fatigue, you might lack poise, and, most important of all, you probably are shortening your life.

For a good reducing diet, consult your doctor. Meanwhile, you can follow these suggestions:

- 1—No between-meal snacks. This means no alcoholic beverages, pretzels, potato chips, candy or similar foods which have high caloric value but relatively little food value.
- 2—Don't use sugar on your fruit dishes or in fruit juices.
- 3—Don't use salad dressing or mayonnaise on sandwiches.
- 4—Use vinegar or lemon on salads instead of regular dressings.
- 5—Don't eat gravy and sweet spreads.
- 6—Broil or bake foods instead of frying them.
- 7—Trim most of the fat off your meat.
- 8—Don't use fat as seasoning in preparation of foods.
- 9—Don't use heavy or whipped cream.

Just 12 years ago yesterday, it happened. The English Channel was speckled with hundreds upon hundreds of converging ships carrying scores of thousands of battle-clad soldiers. The sky swarmed and thundered with planes that came and went and came and went again and fire flamed and blood flowed on beaches called Omaha and Utah.

The Allied operation succeeded so well that 26 days later General Eisenhower's command had put ashore a million men, 566,648 tons of supplies and 171,532 vehicles. It had suffered 60,770 casualties and taken 41,000 prisoners, and the German doom began.

Today could such an operation succeed? Hardly. Assuming an enemy had the H-bomb, the massing of fleets to support a major landing would be suicidal. A few well-placed hell bombs would turn any massed navy into debris.

The Inspiration Of Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel and his charming Evelyn came up to see me. It was a sad moment, for there was my friend who could not see. When the punk threw sulphuric acid into Victor's eyes, he did something about labor racketeering, about the union of the mob and the commies on the New York waterfront and elsewhere that cannot be undone.

Every time people see Victor, they will think of the lawlessness of our big cities, a lawlessness that includes not only labor racketeering and dope pushin but the frightful fear of public officials that if they fight the mob, they will lose votes and financial support.

What is the mob? It is a grouping together of individuals for the purpose of earning money by marginal and often illegal methods. Responsibility for the existence of the mob are the income tax laws, for what those who engage in these operations must do is to gather together sums of money which are not reported for income tax purposes.

There are many activities in which such men can engage: Waterfront pilferage and protection; the infiltration and control of labor unions, particularly welfare funds which can be looted where there is no adequate supervision; the dope traffic, growing larger every year — there must be a waterfront connection to make this successful.

Those who engage in the dope traffic need communist connections because dope comes now principally from Red China, although it may find its way into this country by devious routes. There must also be important banking connections. The safest country for banking in such circumstances is Switzerland where it is against the law for a bank to disclose the ownership of an account. More and more, Switzerland's banking methods will become a problem to the United States, particularly as many American munition industries are coming into the hands of aliens whose money apparently comes from Switzerland, the actual owner of the funds not being available even to government investigators.

Those engaged in these practices must coalesce in order to protect each other and to gain strength to conduct their business. They build their own political personalities, supporting their careers, either as clients of law firms or by putting extraordinary opportunities in the way of relatives and associates.

The mob moves into labor activities by numerous devices, but the aim is always the huge treasures of the unions and their welfare funds. They particularly find communist or former communist unions easy to get into or into trucking unions of various kinds. In a word, where goods are easily destroyed or damaged, where employees may want or need protection, where employers are engaged in illegitimate practices and can be blackmailed, the mob moves in. For example, a truck full of ladies' garments can be ruined by being muddied, by being scarred with acid, by being burned from a lighted cigarette, etc., etc. It is therefore to the interest of the employer to pay protection. After all, it is the same as paying insurance premiums, except that whereas the insurance company pays after the damage is done, the mob undertakes to see that no damage is done and that therefore no customers are lost.

This sort of thing is as old as the hills and is a way of making a non-taxable dollar unless someone tells his wife and she decides to get a divorce and it all comes out in the divorce court.

The Victor Riesel story shocked the world because his position made it a public affair. But things like that happen too often for comfort and our officials practically never catch the man. In New York, we are piling up a record of unsolved and even unreported cases which are shocking when one realizes that, not too many generations ago this city boasted that the streets were safe day and night. They are not safe at night and sometimes not during the day. There are areas of the city cabmen are afraid to drive through at night. Muggings occur in public parks. And the fact does stand out that a Carlo Tresca was shot by order of Moscow on a New York street; Victor Riesel had acid thrown into his eyes and he was blinded near all-night restaurant in the most lighted and crowded night-life area in the city. Nobody has been caught.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Here are ten simple do's and don'ts you can easily follow to help keep your weight down.

As I have so often told you, you probably are overweight simply because you eat more calories than your body needs. The only way to cure this situation is to cut down on what you eat.

Health Hazard

Being overweight is a definite health hazard. You have to work harder than the average person to perform any task. And the bulk of this additional work must be performed by your heart.

Heart disease, no matter what its cause, is aggravated by overweight.

Besides, if you are greatly overweight, you are more likely to develop high blood pressure, diabetes and other diseases of the blood and kidneys.

Accident-Prone

You are more prone to accidents and excess fatigue, you might lack poise, and, most important of all, you probably are shortening your life.

For a good reducing diet, consult your doctor. Meanwhile, you can follow these suggestions:

- 1.—No between-meal snacks. This means no alcoholic beverages, pretzels, potato chips, candy or similar foods which have a high caloric value but relatively little food value.
- 2.—Don't use sugar on your fruit dishes or in fruit juices.
- 3.—Don't use salad dressing or mayonnaise on sandwiches.
- 4.—Use vinegar or lemon on salads instead of regular dressings.
- 5.—Don't eat gravy and sweet spreads.
- 6.—Broil or bake foods instead of frying them.
- 7.—Trim most of the fat off your meat.
- 8.—Don't use fat as seasoning in preparation of foods.
- 9.—Don't use heavy or whipped cream.

The Answer Quick

1. Is this statement true or false, Tasso was a contemporary of Julius Caesar?
2. For what are wheels used in Tibet?
3. In mythology, who built the labyrinth of King Minos?
4. What orchestral instrument, in its literal translation, means small?
5. Who was Madame Dudevant?

Watch Your Language

DISCORD — (DIS-kord)—noun; want of concord or agreement; disagreement; hence, strife and conflict. Music — a want of concord or harmony; a combination of musical sounds which strike the ear harshly; dissonance. Origin: Old French —Discord, earlier, Descort, from Descorder.

Your Future

Much of your success in the next year will depend on your rejection of plausible sounding schemes that promise short-cuts to riches. Today's child is likely to be of a kind, sociable nature.

How'd You Make Out

1. False. Torquato Tasso, Italian poet, lived from 1544-1595; Julius Caesar—102-44 B. C.
2. For playing.

Ohio GOPsters Worried About Voters' Apathy

Republican Leaders Map Plan To Stir Up Big November Turnout

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican strategists are whipping up a drive to overcome voter apathy displayed in Ohio's primary election.

Ballot marking last month fell about a quarter of a million below official estimates. But the Republican showing was worse than expected while Democrats did better than they had hoped.

GOP State Chairman Ray C. Bliss of Akron said the returns pointed to changes in Ohio's nominally Republican political complexion and the need for a vigorous fall campaign.

"My one concern," he said, "is that the Republicans are too complacent about the November election."

He indicated that candidates shouldn't count on President Eisenhower's popularity and Ohio's reputation as a Republican state to pull them through.

"This isn't that kind of a state any more," Bliss asserted. "The old straight tickets are out. The office-type ballot requires a sales campaign for every candidate."

Office-type ballots group candidates of both parties under the office they seek. They were designed to end straight ticket voting with a single "X" under party emblems on old style ballots. Voters now must mark each candidate for whom they want their vote to count.

Bliss accepted that Republicans have the kind of ticket that will win this year.

"To win in Ohio," he explained, "you have to have qualified candidates and adequate financing, plus a vigorous campaign."

Without elaborating on financing Bliss asserted GOP candidates are better qualified from the President on down.

Gubernatorial nominee C. William O'Neill, rounding out his third term as attorney general, served 12 years in the Legislature, two of them as speaker of the Ohio House.

U. S. Sen. George H. Bender, re-nominated without opposition, served five terms in the state Senate and seven in Congress before election in 1954 to the unexpired term of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Bliss expressed confidence that O'Neill and other candidates for state offices would win. He said Bender had a good chance to beat Democrat Gov. Frank J. Lausche if Ohioans realize that Republican control of the Senate might hinge on Bender's election.

"Washington people say Bender has an excellent record in the Senate," Bliss reported. "He is informed on bills and has done the kind of job that entitles him to reelection."

Bliss predicted that Republicans would retain control of the Legislature, pick up a couple of seats from Democrats in Congress and "crack through into the court houses which we haven't done for some years." He declined to "pin point for the opposition" the congressional seats Republicans hoped to gain.

The state chairman said Negroes are showing more interest in the Republican party and figured that gains would come from that direction. He appeared unconcerned about lack of Republican support from labor leaders. Records show that rank file working men vote as they please, he explained.

Bliss remained non-committal about reports that an influx of southern workers into Ohio industrial centers, the Portsmouth-Waverly atomic energy area and Ohio River developments favored Democrats.

He asserted that Republicans had the votes to win if they went to the polls. "Candidates must get that 'add on vote' in Ohio to win," Bliss said.

He described the "add on vote" as that lying between confirmed members of both parties who customarily voted for candidates of their own political faith.

State headquarters, Bliss said, will develop a basic campaign to capture the "add on vote" for the entire Republican ticket. Both state and local GOP organizations will concentrate on getting out the vote with the help of individual campaigns by candidates, he explained.

Regular Church Day Of WSCS Held Thursday

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Grace Methodist Church met in Fellowship Hall Wednesday for the regular Church Day.

The noon luncheon was served at tables tastefully decorated with arrangements of roses and peonies by the members of Circle 8, with Mrs. Harold Craig, leader.

The afternoon session was opened with a piano selection by Mrs. B. E. Kelley.

Mrs. John Weade, president, presided over the business meeting, and Mrs. Joe E. White, spiritual life secretary conducted the devotion using as her subject "World Understanding", reading Scripture passages from Romans and Galatians and closed with prayer.

Mrs. G. O. Garbriel was introduced as a guest.

The girls Friendship Circle whose leader is Mrs. John E. Rhoads, presented to the members two large punch bowls with cups and Mrs. C. L. Lewellen presented two beautiful vases in memory of Mrs. John Stark, given by Mrs. Stark's daughter, Miss Jane Saxton.

A new American Flag and a Christian Flag were presented by Mrs. D. H. Rowe.

Following the usual reports given by the secretary, Mrs. Arthur Vetter and treasurer, Mrs. C. L. Lewellen, the program was presented.

Mrs. Earl Grimm, program chairman, led in group singing and the worship center table was covered with a white cloth, upon which rested a crystal holder with a single white candle and replicas of flags of the 29 countries of the World, in which the Woman's Society of Christian Service has worked.

Mrs. Jack White gave a talk on "The Ways of accomplishing 'Our Quadriennial Goals'" and a most interesting film taken at the International Seminar shown by Mrs. Grimm, explained the team on world understanding composed of three ladies, one from India, one from Japan, and one from Uruguay leaders of the WSCS in their respective countries.

Recordings of their speeches were heard and all expressed the importance of the peoples of the world working together for better world understanding for peace and freedom.

The meeting was adjourned with the Mirpah benediction.

Jeffersonville WSCS Circle Hold Meeting

The Combined Circles of the Jeffersonville Methodist Church met at the church Wednesday afternoon with twenty members present.

Mrs. Harold Zimmerman, president, conducted the meeting and opened with the reading of a poem "Beginning".

The usual reports were heard and approved and a note of thanks was read from the Stuckey family and a contribution was made to the church in memory of Mrs. Asa Stuckey, a member recently deceased.

A substantial contribution was made to the Sabina Youth Camp and Mrs. Harold Zimmerman read an article entitled "The Success of the WSCS Depends on Volunteers," and the meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Ralph Davidson.

The opening hymn was followed with Scripture reading from Romans by Mrs. Ray Fisher, and the leader offered prayer.

The subject was "Fellowship" and Mrs. Harold Klever read "World and Home Community" and a short playlet written by Mrs. Elwood Rose, of Jamestown, entitled "Sabina, Here I Come" with the parts taken by Mrs. Harold Zimmerman, Mrs. Virgil Hardman and Mrs. Flora Robbins.

The program closed with a hymn and prayer by the leader, and during the hour refreshments were served by members of the Mary Routh Circle.

The next meeting will be held on July 5 at the church.

Little Boy Is Four Years Old

Terry Eugene Overly

This cunning little boy is Master Terry Eugene Overly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Overly, 905 Lakeview Avenue, who celebrated his fourth birthday anniversary May 23.

His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Overly of New Holland and Mr. Pearl Cox of the Robinson Road.

New President Entertains WSCS Members

Mrs. Homer Wilson entertained twenty members of the Madison Mills WSCS at her home, Wednesday afternoon and included one guest.

Mrs. Wilson, the newly elected president opened the meeting with the reading of a poem entitled "If You Stand Very Still".

Mrs. Walter Butcher led in the devotions and included the singing of a hymn, an article on the subject "The World Beginning In My Community" a short skit, "How About the World" by Mrs. H. W. Melvin, Mrs. Wilbur Allemang and Mrs. Forest Fry, and prayer led by Mrs. Butcher.

The program was in charge of Mrs. A. E. Dawson, who gave the call to worship, and the singing of a hymn was followed with Scripture reading and prayer.

Readings on the subject, "The World and the Home Community" read by the leader, were "Is World Fellowship Possible?" "Our Community in the World" and also articles on exchange students to foreign countries.

The business session included the usual reports a contribution to the MYF for the Lancaster Camp, and Mrs. Lawrence Wood was welcomed as a new member.

At the close of the meeting a social was enjoyed and Mrs. Wilson was assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Campbell and Mrs. Frank Barrett in the serving of refreshments.

Miss Annalee Fry was included as a guest.

The next meeting on Tuesday, July 3 will be held at the Madison Mills Methodist Church.

Miss Jackson Is Hostess To Church Society

A dessert course preceded the meeting of Circle 3 of the Woman's Association of First Presbyterian Church held at the home of Miss Emma Jackson, Wednesday afternoon with 18 members present. In the absence of the leaders, the fellowship chairman, Mrs. Perse Harlow, conducted the meeting, and opened with a reading from the Year Book of Prayer for missionaries in China, and offered prayer.

The Bible Study on Ephesians was in charge of Mrs. Howard Perrell, and Mrs. Harlow was assisted in readings on American Indians by Mrs. Jack Orr, Mrs. Harold Hyer, Mrs. C. H. Thoroman and Mrs. O. D. Farquhar.

The usual reports were given,

Personals

Auxiliary Elects New Officers At Regular Meeting

Election of officers, highlighted the regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary held in Legion Hall, Wednesday evening.

The meeting was opened according to the ritual by the president, Mrs. Arthur Herbolzheimer and the secretary, Mrs. Eugene Ladrach, gave her report as did the treasurer, Mrs. Allen Sells both of which were approved as read.

Mrs. Sells gave the report for the auditing committee which was also accepted and Mrs. Howard Mace reported on the sale of poppies which was most gratifying.

Final plans were made for the summer district convention to be held here Sunday, July 1 and the state convention was announced for July 20, 21 and 22, in Cleveland with five delegates, Mrs. Arthur Herbolzheimer, Mrs. Philip Ford, Mrs. Eugene Ladrach, Mrs. Charles Foster and Mrs. Hugh Gidding and five alternates Mrs. Russell Whited, Mrs. Harold Gorman, Mrs. Albert Hyer, Mrs. Zoe Garlinger and Mrs. Raymond Stephens.

Officers elected were: Mrs. Philip Ford, president; Mrs. Eugene Ladrach, first vice president; Mrs. Hugh Gidding, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Foster, secretary and Mrs. Russell Whited, treasurer.

The program on "Flag Day" was in charge of Mrs. Chester Clay who presented Mrs. Max G. Dice, who spoke on flag etiquette and respect for the flag, which was most interesting.

A social hour followed and tempting delicacies were served from a table centered with early summer flowers, with Mrs. Arthur Herbolzheimer, presiding over the punch bowl.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Robert A. Craig, and Mrs. Ruth Hanna Hopkins.

Walker-Wyatt Wedding Plans Are Completed

Miss Daisy Margaret Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester W. Walker of 114 East Elm Street and Mr. James E. Wyatt of this city, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wyatt, have completed plans for their wedding on Saturday, June 9.

The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents at 6:30 P. M., and Dr. Edgar A. Walker of Canton, uncle will officiate at the ceremony.

Miss Shirley Mae Walker, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor and Mr. John Bill Banister, nephew of the bridegroom will be best man.

A reception will follow the ceremony for invited guests.

Miss Walker is associated with Sears - Robuck and Company here as credit assistant and Mr. Wyatt is associated with the Wilson Lumber Company here.

Dinner Precedes Club Meeting

The meeting of Past Councillor's Club D of A. at the home of Mrs. Jess Whitmer was preceded by a delicious covered dish dinner with eighteen members present and three guests included.

The business session was called to order by the vice president, Mrs. Herman Sward and Mrs. Rena Bogges led in the devotions which included the reading of the 138th Psalm and the praying of the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. Ear Orr, secretary-treasurer, gave her report which was accepted as read and round robin cards were sent to members reported ill.

Plans were made for the July meeting at the home of Mrs. Rutherford Groover and the repeating of the club benediction closed the meeting.

Mrs. Whitmer was assisted during the evening by Mrs. Albert Warner, Mrs. Lola Aleshire and Mrs. Edna Smeek.

Sharon Stoops Is Honored At Birthday Party

Miss Kathy Stoops entertained at an afternoon party and the occasion honored the sixth birthday anniversary of her younger sister, Sharon Kay.

Games and contests were arranged for the pleasure of the guests and each received a prize.

Later, the group was seated at one long table centered with a doll cake for the serving of ice cream and the birthday cake with a color scheme of pink and white carried out.

Favors of balloons and small toys were found at each place as favors.

Mrs. Ira Stoops assisted her daughter in the hospitalities.

Small guests included were Linda Lou Stoops, Douglas Copas, Julie Wilson, Jimmy Leath, Linda Hobbie of this city, Carolyn and Tommy Stoops of Chillicothe.

Mrs. Alyce Marsh was included as a special guest.

Mrs. Farquhar Is Hostess To Kensington Club

Mrs. Farquhar was hostess on Tuesday when a full attendance of members of the Tuesday Kensington Club assembled at her home for their usual afternoon of informal visiting over needlework.

Early summer flowers with peonies in pink and white were used throughout the rooms, pink and aqua was used as the theme for one large table and a smaller table in the dining room seating the fifteen members for a tempting dessert course, with Mrs. G. C. Kidner assisting in the serving.

During the afternoon announcement was made of the presenting of two dozen hand puppets to Memorial Hospital to be used in the Children's Ward and since they were so well received it was decided to continue the work as a project.

Campfire Girls Hold Meeting At Leader's Home

Members of the Sadakimat o p Camp Fire Girls met at the home of Sharon Doster with Mrs. Clifford Doster and Mrs. Robert Allen, leaders, also present to supervise the meeting.

A ceremonial council fire was held and the girls were presented with honor beads earned in seven crafts. Outdoors Craft; Creative Art; Business Craft; Home Craft; Citizenship; Frontier and Games Crafts.

Women Explorers Find Ancient City

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Four British women have discovered ruins of a 3,000-year-old city near the Syrian border with Turkey.

It was the second Syrian announcement of an archeological find in two days.

Syria's chief archeologist, Dr. Salim Abdel Abdulhak, said the British team had reported uncovering the ancient city north of Aleppo after 45 days of excavations. The women reported evidence it was the capital of an ancient state known as Arbad.

Abdulhak had reported the discovery in northern Syria of the 4,000-year-old city of Semira.

PLEATED is this evening costume of black silk chiffon designed by Roxane. The neckline of the dress is cut low in back, and the skirt is shaped out at the hemline by the thin hoop of an underskirt. Piping ties the cape. Charming model for country club parties.

Mrs. Farquhar Is Hostess To Kensington Club

Mrs. Farquhar was hostess on Tuesday when a full attendance of members of the Tuesday Kensington Club assembled at her home for their usual afternoon of informal visiting over needlework.

Early summer flowers with peonies in pink and white were used throughout the rooms, pink and aqua was used as the theme for one large table and a smaller table in the dining room seating the fifteen members for a tempting desert course, with Mrs. G. C. Kidner assisting in the serving.

During the afternoon announcement was made of the presenting of two dozen hand puppets to Memorial Hospital to be used in the Children's Ward and since they were so well received it was decided to continue the work as a project.

Campfire Girls Hold Meeting At Leader's Home

Members of the Sadakimato Camp Fire Girls met at the home of Sharon Doster with Mrs. Clifford Doster and Mrs. Robert Allen, leaders, also present to supervise the meeting.

A ceremonial council fire was held and the girls were presented with honor beads earned in seven crafts, Outdoors Craft; Creative Art; Business Craft; Home Craft; Citizenship; Frontier and Games Crafts.

Women Explorers Find Ancient City

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Four British women have discovered ruins of a 3,000-year-old city near the Syrian border with Turkey.

It was the second Syrian announcement of an archeological find in two days.

Syria's chief archeologist, Dr. Salim Abdel Abdulhak, said the British team had reported uncovering the ancient city north of Aleppo after 45 days of excavations. The women reported evidence it was the capital of an ancient state known as Arhad.

Abdulhak had reported the discovery in northern Syria of the 4,000-year-old city of Semira.

Better Grade Of Metal Is Being Sought

Scientists, Engineers Hard At Work Trying To Match Demands

By SAM DAWSON

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Improving the breed — usually associated with Churchill Downs or Belmont — today is the goal of thousands of scientists, engineers, technicians, and pilot plant workmen in the nation. The breed they're out to improve isn't horses but metals.

They are trying to meet the ever growing industrial and military demands for better metals to do precise and often seemingly impossible tasks. Business in general, and even the stock market, watches their result.

That's because improving the breed of metals not only can bring success in the defense armament race but also, metallurgists here say, can make the difference between profit and loss for railroads, airlines, trucking. They say that in improved metals lies the future of automation in manufacturing, building construction, auto design, mining and even man made satellites.

U.S. Steel has just opened a research center at nearby Monroeville, Pa., dedicated to improving the breed of metals. Two thirds of the work there is aimed at improving processes of handling metal and one third at seeking new products or applications.

Allegheny-Ludlum Steel's research scientists here are working on many problems, including new alloys to enable the Air Force to pierce the heat barrier (the speed at which many metals now used would melt). There already exists a small pilot plane that can fly that fast without melting and big ones are the new goal. Allegheny-Ludlum's scientists say they have special heat resistant steels that the auto industry can put into turbo jet engines. The problem they're working on now is to get the cost down so that the auto companies could put them in mass production.

American Brake Shoe, which has a plant here and a research center at Mahwah, N. J., is working on new alloys, new heat techniques.

Among the challenges that metallurgists today are being given by industry and defense — and licking or constantly improving upon — brake shoe scientists point out the following:

Tougher metals for crushing — to get the iron out of one of the hardest rocks in the world, tachonite, and vastly expand the nation's iron resources.

Stronger metals for wearing and moving parts — to keep automated manufacturing from breaking down and losing production time.

Three purpose metals for highway construction — offering strength, hardness and impact resistance in the same piece. To meet the demands of the nation's multi-billion dollar highway expansion program.

Research directors here point out other problems of industry to be met. U. S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin, among others, are working on alloy steels to enable oil drillers to go even deeper into the earth where both pressures and heat become terrific.

Other metallurgists are looking for the right formula that could permit the substitution of cast alloys for welded or assembled parts in jet engines for the airlines.

The petrochemical industry also calls for special alloys to resist both high temperatures and powerful acids.

Improving the breed of metals is an endless — and expensive — task.

Big 3 Steel Firms Study Union Demand

NEW YORK (AP) — "Big Three" steel wage negotiations that could affect the nation's economy open here today.

Representatives of the United States, Bethlehem and Republic steel corporations meet in the Hotel Roosevelt to discuss the 22-point package asked by the United Steelworkers of America.

The union is aiming for a "substantial" but unspecified wage increase, 52-week layoff pay premium pay for weekend work, a company-paid insurance program and a full union shop.

Any agreement reached will set a pattern for the remainder of the steel industry and serve as a bellwether for negotiations in other industries.

An agreement resulting in a price agreement in the basic metal could affect prices of a wide range of commodities.

A stalemate in negotiations could result in an economy-shaking strike of 650,000 steelworkers.

Steelworkers' contracts expire June 30. The present average in the industry, with incentive pay and overtime, is $2.46 an hour.

This year's wage talks began in Pittsburgh May 31, when the union presented its proposals. The session lasted only three hours.

It ended with a joint announcement that the companies "will spend the next several days in further studying the union's proposals" and that the next meeting would be held in New York.

Ohio GOP Chieftain Says Negro Vote To Go Republican

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio GOP Chairman Ray Bliss said today Ohio Negroes are "swinging back" to the Republicans because of the Eisenhower civil rights record.

Speaking at a news conference before calling on Vice President Nixon, Bliss asserted:

"It seems to me we have in Ohio a chance of at least 10 per cent shift of that Negro vote. Assuming a potential of 300,000 colored votes, that's 30,000 votes plus."

He noted Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) won by just a few thousand votes in 1954 and said a shift of the sort he anticipates could determine the outcome of statewide races.

Bliss called on Nixon to ask him to stump Ohio for Republican candidates and to discuss other Ohio political matters.

Kefauver Favored In Montana Poll

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Tennessee Sen. Estes Kefauver, jolted by his primary defeat in California, could take some solace today in being assured of Montana's 16 votes at the Democratic Convention.

At the same time President Eisenhower claimed the state's 14 Republican convention votes in yesterday's presidential primary, the first in Montana since 1924.

Kefauver's was the only name on the Democratic ballot, but a scattering of written votes also went to former Illinois Gov. Adlai Stevenson, New York Gov. Averell Harriman, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas and Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

The three-mile limit to a nation's control of the seas which wash its shores was determined by the distance an 18th century cannon could shoot.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband has recently joined a very well-known national organization which, like so many, has beautiful ideals and purposes; and which is restricted to members of a certain religious persuasion.

The initiation consisted of several parts; and the last step completely dismayed and disillusioned me. Of course I know nothing of the ritual, which is secret. I only saw the result.

When my husband returned after three hours, he was half sick from exhaustion—after what must have been a hazing type of initiation. I can't understand what such an exercise is supposed to accomplish unless to give pleasure to a few sadistic men.

I have learned since that my husband's condition wasn't unusual; the husbands of some of my friends were actively ill.

I can only think of the "initiators" as adult delinquents. If teenagers inflicted such abuse on their members, I am sure that grown-ups would denounce them as being senselessly cruel.

My husband isn't a weaking, morally or physically. But I know from his silence how he feels on the subject.

DEAR C. Y.: It is understandable that a devoted wife would feel outraged to the core, and would wish to organize a campaign to prevent such stupidity, on seeing her husband in a horrifying condition of physical shock—as the price of joining a secret society, of supposedly "idealistic" caliber.

In crying out against such practices, which your husband has stoically endured, you are touching on an aspect of human nature, wherein the female of the species differs radically from the male. The woman, being primarily the creator (and hence by instinct the conservator) of the race, is profoundly disturbed by and burning to oppose to injurious treatment of human beings, for any reason.

Whereas males, on the other hand, down through the ages, have connived in their ridiculous and (in part) morbidly cruel secret rituals, since time immemorial—as if trying to prove to themselves, and each other, that they aren't afraid of hurt. And that they don't fear the possibility of personal death, destruction, maiming, etc.

I think this business of trying to prove something—though what it is, they don't actually know—is back of the initiation game. The truth of the matter is, I suppose, that their demonstration of guts amounts to "protesting too much." If they weren't afraid (and afraid of being found out in their fear), they wouldn't be at such pains to "prove" the contrary!

Their attitude towards fear is both ignorant and neurotic. I see no sanity whatever, in secret rites that make a mockery of trying men's souls with abominations.

M. H. Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of this newspaper.

Ike Praises Religious Role On Local Level

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower has praised a call for religious leaders to take the lead on a local level in treating "social and group tensions as they arise."

The National Conference of Christians and Jews urged local action on the problem in a recent "message to the American people." Eisenhower's response was made public by the conference Tuesday.

"The message to the American people . . . is creative and constructive in its proposal that our religious leaders take the initiative in calling together concerned citizens on a local basis, to treat social and group tensions as they arise," Eisenhower said.

"Problems of such magnitude as American race relations and intercultural good will and cooperation can be dealt with most effectively on the moral and spiritual plane," the President said. "Courageous action by the leaders of the three great religious traditions of our country is basic to all other steps that must be taken."

Ike Says UN Plans Invite To Russian

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says that Gen. Nathan F. Twining's acceptance of an invitation to visit the Soviet Union air show in Moscow June 24 means the United States will reciprocate by inviting Twining's Russian opposite number to this country.

The Record-Herald Thursday, June 7, 1956 9

Twining is Air Force chief of staff. The President said further that if Russia should invite Secretary of Defense Wilson to the Soviet Union, then the U. S. certainly would invite Soviet Defense Minister George Zhukov to this country.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband has recently joined a very well-known national organization which, like so many, has beautiful ideals and purposes; and which is restricted to members of a certain religious persuasion.

The initiation consisted of several parts; and the last step completely dismayed and disillusioned me. Of course I know nothing of the ritual, which is secret. I only saw the result.

When my husband returned after three hours, he was half sick from exhaustion—after what must have been a hazing type of initiation. I can't understand what such an exercise is supposed to accomplish unless to give pleasure to a few sadistic men.

I have learned since that my husband's condition wasn't unusual; the husbands of some of my friends were actively ill.

I can only think of the "initiators" as adult delinquents. If teenagers inflicted such abuse on their members, I am sure that grown-ups would denounce them as being senselessly cruel.

My husband isn't a weakling, morally or physically. But I know from his silence how he feels on the subject.

C. Y.

DEAR C. Y.: It is understandable that a devoted wife would feel outraged to the core, and would wish to organize a campaign to prevent such stupidity, on seeing her husband in a horrifying condition of physical shock—as the price of joining a secret society, of supposedly "idealistic" caliber.

In crying out against such practices, which your husband has stoically endured, you are touching on an aspect of human nature, wherein the female of the species differs radically from the male. The woman, being primarily the creator (and hence by instinct the conservator) of the race, is profoundly disturbed by and burningly opposed to injurious treatment of human beings, for any reason.

Whereas males, on the other hand, down through the ages, have connived in their ridiculous and (in part) morbidly cruel secret rituals, since time immemorial—as if trying to prove to themselves, and each other, that they aren't afraid of hurt. And that they don't fear the possibility of personal death, destruction, maiming, etc.

I think this business of trying to prove something—though what it is, they don't actually know—is back of the initiation game. The truth of the matter is, I suppose, that their demonstration of guts amounts to "protesting too much." If they weren't afraid (and afraid of being found out in their fear), they wouldn't be at such pains to "prove" the contrary!

Their attitude towards fear is both ignorant and neurotic. I see no sanity whatever, in secret rites that make a mockery of trying men's souls with abominations.

Ike Praises Religious Role On Local Level

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower has praised a call for religious leaders to take the lead on a local level in treating "social and group tensions as they arise."

The National Conference of Christians and Jews urged local action on the problem in a recent "message to the American people." Eisenhower's response was made public by the conference Tuesday.

"The message to the American people . . . is creative and constructive in its proposal that our religious leaders take the initiative in calling together concerned citizens on a local basis, to treat social and group tensions as they arise," Eisenhower said.

"Problems of such magnitude as American race relations and intercultural good will and cooperation can be dealt with most effectively on the moral and spiritual plane," the President said. "Courageous action by the leaders of the three great religious traditions of our country is basic to all other steps that must be taken."

Ike Says UN Plans Invite To Russian

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says that Gen. Nathan F. Twining's acceptance of an invitation to visit the Soviet Union air show in Moscow June 24 means the United States will reciprocate by inviting Twining's Russian opposite number to this country.

The Record-Herald Thursday, June 7, 1956 9
Washington, C. H. Ohio

Twining is Air Force chief of staff. The President said further that if Russia should invite Secretary of Defense Wilson to the Soviet Union, then the U. S. certainly would invite Soviet Defense Minister George Zhukov to this country.

Bicycle Shop Proprietor Helps Keep Stars In Shape

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Hans Ohrt says when he opened a bicycle shop in Beverly Hills, "I was voted the man least likely to succeed."

That was 20 years ago, and he's still doing a thriving business with such customers as Marilyn Monroe, Clark Gable and Maureen O'Sullivan's children. The latter alone are almost enough to keep him in business.

The secret of Ohrt's success may be his evangelistic conviction that everyone should bicycle. This zeal seems to rub off on others. When I saw Fess Parker recently, he spent many minutes expounding on the joys of cycling.

It seems that Fess returned from abroad after having tasted too much of European cooking. He dropped into Ohrt's shop to see about getting a bike to help remove the excess poundage. That is when it happened. Now Fess can be seen almost daily pedaling through the hills and down to the beach on 30-mile rides.

"I can drop five pounds on one trip," he enthused. "And it's got me in great shape. It's the best kind of exercise; like swimming, it uses every muscle."

Ohrt continued the pitch for cycling when I visited his shop. "It's the finest exercise there is," he contended. "We got our biggest boost when the president's specialist, Dr. Paul Dudley White, came out with a statement that cycling will help prevent heart troubles. That was a great thing for our industry."

Ohrt is ready for the boom. He's a big, hearty San Franciscan who has been cycling all his life. The national amateur champ in 1915, he turned pro soon afterward, came to Beverly Hills 20 years ago. Now 61, he continues to pedal around town, though he has lately given up his annual trek to Palm Springs, 100 miles distant.

Anti-Stalin Drive Discussed By Ike

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower today expressed the opinion that the denunciation of Stalin by Nikita Khrushchev, Russia's Communist party boss, was primarily for home consumption. Eisenhower said it apparently was intended to be an exhortation of a dictator, but actually amounted to an exhortation of dictatorships.

He added that it is clear indication of how the Kremlin leaders regard the individual as opposed to the state.

Most Meat Prices
Steady To Higher

By THE ASSOCIATES PRESS

Meats on special weekend sale vary widely across the nation this week but chickens will be found on all food store bargain lists.

Faced with rising costs for beef on wholesale markets and relatively high costs for lamb and pork, retailers have looked hard for other featured items.

Picnic hams and chuck roasts will be found fairly often by housewives shopping for specials. Beef, which had a substantial rise on the wholesale market a week ago, is generally selling at slightly higher retail prices this week.

Lamb has stayed fairly firm after recent increases but pork is slightly lower. Both lamb and pork are now well above prices of a year ago.

The outlook for price-conscious shoppers is better at vegetable counters where new crops are swelling the number of outstanding buys.

A little higher at the good buy level are asparagus, iceberg lettuce, yellow and green squash and carrots.

2 Leading Xenia Officials Resign

XENIA — Both City Manager Jephth J. Carrell and City Commission President Robert C. Shaw have resigned.

Carrell, 32, came to Xenia two years ago. Effective Aug. 1, he will become director of training of the International City Managers Assn. in Chicago.

Shaw, at 30, was the youngest man ever elected to city commission. He cited the press of his law business as reason for his resignation.

State Liquor Chief Hails Decision Against Pinballs

COLUMBUS — The Ohio Supreme Court's ruling that pinball machines with a free-play payoff are illegal has been hailed by the state liquor director.

Director William C. Bryant said the decision provides "the tool we have needed to clean up" pinball machines in licensed liquor spots.

Bryant told newsmen: "I have read the decision and it appears to be a far-reaching one. I am having copies made and we will study the situation. We have been seeking a means of combating these machines for a long time. Now it appears the court has given us the weapon we can use against them."

Under regulations of the liquor board, exhibition of gambling devices on permit premises is banned.

In Cincinnati, City Solicitor Henry M. Bruestle said he had not read the opinion but if the machines are illegal, they will be banned.

Police Chief Stanley Schrotel, who recently estimated that the pinball machines do a seven million dollar business in Cincinnati, said he would do nothing toward stopping their operation until he heard from the city solicitor.

Attorneys for the pinball interests said they would have to read the opinion before deciding on any action.

Dayton Area Draft Boards Hold Mum

DAYTON — Montgomery County draft boards are "way ahead" of a suggestion offered this week by state selective service director Col. Harold L. Hays.

Col. Hays suggested that local draft boards withhold the addresses of draftees to prevent solicitation by various concerns, "such as a commercial photographer."

Here, all information except the draftee's name has been considered confidential. This policy has been in effect since the boards were formed in 1941 and applies not only to the press, but to all organizations and individuals.

Indonesia Drops Ban On Red China

JAKARTA, Indonesia — Indonesia has joined Malaya and Singapore in abandoning the U. N. embargo on rubber shipments to Red China.

Together they produce more than half the world's natural rubber.

Ceylon, a British commonwealth nation producing almost 100,000 tons a year, has long been sending rubber to Red China in exchange for rice.

The foreign ministry announced Indonesia's decision to lift the ban, in force since the outbreak of the Korean War in 1950.

More Devices Perfected To Assure Control

Modern Home Loaded With Automatic Gear, And Still More Coming

By SAM DAWSON
PITTSBURGH (AP) — It may be hard to control the housewife but she certainly put the controls on her house these days.

And the highly specialized automatic controls industry has cooking in its research laboratories still great marvels of automation for the home — including one that will let her know when her husband comes home in the early hours.

Hidden inside today's home appliances are a variety of tiny automatic control devices to measure time, start and stop gadgets, maintain heat or switch to cold. Just catching on is a thermal eye which makes it really hard for a cook to burn food prepared on the top of a stove.

About 300 million dollars worth of these devices each year go into the nation's ranges, refrigerators, water heaters, washing machines, dryers, air conditioners and other home appliances.

They are akin to the intricate devices that are automatically controlling the nation's industrial processes and are a respectable share of the industry's four billion dollar a year business.

Some of the control makers now specializing in supply home appliance producers with component parts, while often serving many other industries as well, are Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator Co. of Minneapolis; General Controls Co. of Glendale, Calif.; Penn Controls Inc. of Goshen, Ind.; Wilco-Lator Co. of Elizabeth, N.J.; and Robertshaw-Fulton Controls Co. of Greensburg, Pa.

Some appliance manufacturers also make part of their own controls. Westinghouse Electric Co. here, for example, makes all of its devices except clocks and the timers in all appliances except toasters.

Robertshaw-Fulton's Research Center at nearby Irwin, Pa., which is spending about 2½ million dollars this year, has brought out the "thermal eye" which 40 manufacturers of gas and electric ranges are putting on the burners on the top of their new models. A dial set at the correct cooking temperature for a particular food keeps the heat constant for an indefinite period, working somewhat like oven temperature controls do.

Letters To Editor

Editor
Record-Herald
Dear Sir:
For the past several months you have probably been aware of "heat" in relation to schools in Fayette County. With this letter we will try to bring some light to the situation as it affects all of us, you included.

For approximately 80 years, a sizeable area of Fayette County has sent its students to Washington High School, as tuition students.

The Rural Parents Association wants this long and fine relationship with Washington C. H. to continue, with the rural area and city all part of the same school district, if, by investigation, this proves the correct program.

For many years, efforts have been made to establish a base for constructive and friendly cooperation between rural and city schools for a joint solution of their common problems. Plain citizens, the Area Development Committee, the City Board of Education and others have attempted, many times to arrange joint meetings wherein the rural and city boards could explore the opportunities for cooperation.

Beginning back in 1952, these meetings have failed because some rural school personnel blocked any approach, preferring to sponsor a "hate Washington" campaign and an iron curtain between the people, the school children and schools of Fayette County.

Under state law, school districts which do not include high schools will soon have to go out of existence. Therefore, such districts will have to consolidate and establish high school programs or annex to adjoining districts having high schools.

Whatever the solution, it should be in the interest of better education, community well being and intelligent use of tax dollars.

The state Legislature recognized the problems involved, and several years ago passed legislation calling for the establishment of Citizens Committees in each county of Ohio to survey and examine school district organization and reorganization.

During 1954, such a committee was established in Fayette County and its recommendations led to the creation of the Miami Trace District.

But, the bond issue to construct a separate rural high school just outside Washington C. H. was defeated, because many people questioned the wisdom of two small, conjure up these compact automatic controls they even talk of electronically equipped driveways. When a homing car turns in, concealed lights go on along the walks and beside the doorway, and garage doors automatically open.

How does a man sneak in at 3 a. m. that way?

segregated high schools a few hundred yards apart in this small community.

Even before this bond issue got on the ballot, the state legislature recognized the error of the Citizens Committee Law, and in June, 1955, amended the law with the new law becoming effective October 5, 1955.

The big change made in the new law was the inclusion of City School Districts as participants in the Committee, and in the survey and investigations made by such committees, if they wished representation. City districts have been excluded in the old statute. (The city board requested membership last November.)

This change meant that as of October 5, 1955, all committees established under the old law were dissolved and had to be replaced by new committees representing all school districts, including (city districts) in the county, and the Attorney General of Ohio rendered an opinion to the school authorities of Ohio pointing this out.

Many citizens of Fayette County recognizing the need for an unbiased, over-all investigation of school needs of Fayette County, signed a petition and delivered it to the County Board of Education last November 4, 1955, calling for the creation of a new Citizens Committee.

The law establishes such a petition process for the creation of a committee, if the County Board of Education failed to act on its own initiative.

Within 90 days of last October 5, such a committee would, under the law, have been in the process of formation.

Here we are almost in mid-1956, and the law has not been complied with. The Rural Parents Association and signers of the petition have been forced to institute court action to gain the benefits and protection of our Ohio law.

It is a sad commentary on the situation in Fayette County that such action must be taken.

It would be even worse if the citizens of the county took no interest in the welfare of their community or closed their eyes to their own welfare.

Schools, - good, bad or indifferent, cost money, and overlapping or duplicating school operations, school administration, and school construction are tremendously expensive, yet do not improve education.

Fayette County is small in area, population and total school enrollment. An unbiased investigation might well prove that school development based on the total tax duplicate of the entire county and city, as a unit, would afford the best in educational standards for all our children and at the lowest cost in taxes to both rural and city taxpayers.

The people of Fayette County, rural and city, meet as members of the same families, as fellow Christians in their churches, in their organizations, civic and fraternal, in their Granges, and as neighbors and citizens in the functions of their county government. When beset by illness, they all use the same Fayette County hospital. But, when it comes to schools, there are some who would tell us that we should have segregation, rural from city.

The world has too much animosity, - too little understanding. The Rural Parents Association does not want our children to be exposed, during their most formative years, to the evils of community division and segregation. We want them to grow and develop with a feeling of understanding and appreciation for one another.

We want them to have the advantages of high schools large enough to afford broad and sensible courses of study and with enrollments large enough to warrant the necessary classes to meet these needs, and to attract the teaching personnel they should have.

The Rural Parents Association believes that Fayette County has a right to a completely representative Citizens Committee, as the law provides, and an unbiased, competent survey of our educational needs and the best plan for meeting them.

We believe that such an investigation will point the way to progress in—district organization, curriculum, school operation, improved buildings or new buildings, Equality of educational opportunity.

And, with maximum economy for the taxpayers and due regard for the tax dollars taken from the family income.

A Citizens Committee must submit its proposals to all the voters of the county for their approval, in the privacy of the ballot booth.

Such a procedure removes threats of economic boycott or personal abuse as sources of pressure in school determination.

It returns to the citizens and their lay representatives, the right to decide their school organization.

It affords Fayette County an opportunity to demonstrate that we can unite and work for our children's and our community's welfare.

Which will we have in Fayette County?

Segregation and division — to maintain individual empires of influence and control — Or —

Understanding and cooperation, based on intelligent, friendly and sensible action.

The Rural Parents Association solicit your active support in its efforts to achieve the latter.

United we will succeed for our children and our community.

Sincerely Yours,
The RPA Steering Committee

Columbus School Expansion Planned

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Ohio department of mental hygiene and correction plans construction of a 150-bed reception and diagnostic center at Columbus State School.

Dr. C. Earl Albrecht, assistant director of the department, said the $1,165,000 building will combine a diagnostic unit and living quarters.

Supt. Dr. William Butcher said the new building will relieve overcrowded conditions and that medical and treatment facilities will replace outdated facilities elsewhere in the school.

Car Sideswiped On Both Sides By Pair Of Speeders

CASEY, Ill. (AP)—Fred Collins, 45, of West Plains, Mo., told police he was perking along U. S. 40 just west of here yesterday at about 35 miles an hour when two cars came barreling down on him from behind at about 70.

The first sideswiped him on the right. The second scraped him on the left.

The drivers identified themselves as George C. Lee, 27, of Stillwater, Okla., and Mon H. Lo, 24, of West Lafayette, Ind.

The two Chinese, who had never met before, took Collins around to a used car lot and bought him a 1941 model.

Collins said it is a better car than his old one.

The police were satisfied, too. They filed no charges.

Ike Gives His OK To New Checkup

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower declared yesterday that he would have no objection whatever to submitting to a physical examination by a panel of three doctors. He made that statement when asked for comment about a Democratic suggestion that presidential candidates of both parties undergo such a physical.

Eisenhower said he would have no objections if his own doctors would like to call in other physicians for an examination.

Better Dog Relations For Postmen Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post office Department had expert advice today on how to improve relations between letter carriers and the dogs they meet on their grounds.

A group of authorities on dogs met here yesterday at the call of Postmaster General Summerfield. They agreed unanimously to get behind a program of education for dog owners and mailmen, designed to reduce dog attacks on carriers.

The experts expressed the view that neither chemical repellents on carrier uniforms, nor distribution of dog candy by mailmen, with which the department is experimenting, would provide any lasting solution.

Summerfield, who also is trying out padded pants on some carriers, told the gathering that if the campaign can develop better relationships between dogs and mailmen, hundreds of businesses employing delivery services will benefit.

"There is little room for levity or humor in dog-bite injuries," he said.

In 1955, 5,880 dog bite cases were reported by postmen.

Modern Home Loaded

PITTSBURGH (AP) — It may be hard to control the housewife but she certainly put the controls on her house these days.

And the highly specialized automatic controls industry has cooking in its research laboratories still great marvels of automation for the home — including one that will let her know when her husband comes home in the early hours.

Hidden inside today's home appliances are a variety of tiny automatic control devices to measure time, start and stop gadgets, maintain heat or switch to cold. Just catching on is a thermal eye which makes it really hard for a cook to burn food prepared on the top of a stove.

About 390 million dollars worth of these devices each year go into the nation's ranges, refrigerators, water heaters, washing machines, dryers, air conditioners and other home appliances.

Americans Now Take Stock Of Their World Weakness

Editor's Note: Following is the third in a series of four articles outlining the progress being made in the Cold War in the light of the new philosophy coming out of Moscow.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

On the threshold of a long struggle, Americans are doing some soul searching.

Conscious of their great strength on the edge of an economic-political war, Americans are beginning to take stock of their weaknesses, too.

Moscow, heading the Communist world, has thrown out a fateful challenge. In 10 to 15 years, it says, Communists will prove their regimented way of life is superior. Russia says it intends to overtake and outstrip the West's economic power and pave the way for imposing the Soviet idea — peacefully where possible, by force when there is resistance. This is now Communist dogma.

Communism bases itself on a belief the capitalist world will decay from inner contradictions. They reckon without the American revolution of 1929. The United States economy today seems equal to the challenge.

This will be more than an economic war, however. The political, cultural and the military all play a part. Are the United States and its partners ready on all fronts? The answer is no. There are many weaknesses to be corrected.

Where the strengths of the American and Soviet economies are concerned, there can hardly be any comparison. Since 1929 — peak of the pre-depression boom — American economic strength has grown to fabulous proportions. The Soviet press expresses satisfaction with current discussions of American production problems — but since the depression the United States economy has ridden out periodic recessions and adjustments and continued to go steadily forward. There is growing confidence among American leaders that "boom and bust" cycles belong to the past.

The United States gross national product — meaning the dollar value of goods and services for a year — is about 400 billion dollars. As closely as it can be estimated in dollars, the Soviet equivalent would be about 140 billions. American consumers spent 80 billions in 1929 and more than 250 billions on goods and service in 1955. For a population 50 million greater, the 1955 figure for Soviet consumer spending would be about 70 billion dollars.

No Soviet citizen has dared dream of sharing in his economy the way the American worker does in his. The share of American employees in the national income for 1955 was about 32 billion dollars. The corporate percentage share in the U. S. national income has dropped proportionately to the rise in employee shares since 1929, but corporate profits have quadrupled.

Moscow charges that American business must have war to make profits. But in the World War II years, corporate profits were held to an annual 10 billion dollars. In the postwar years net profits after taxes hit 40 billions.

That is the bright side. On the political, cultural and military fronts, there are obvious weaknesses.

The first objectives of the Communist side remain military. Before Red leaders will risk further adventuring, they are determined to destroy what they call the West's positions of strength. This calls for concerted attack on NATO and other Western defense arrangements which draw a ring around the Communist world.

The Communists have made some progress. Weariness with military tax burdens, hunger for expanded trade, longing for security against the threat of a new global war are factors useful to Communist propaganda.

The Red drive gradually is changing some American concepts. Many in Washington express belief the changes are for the better.

The concept of purely military conditions is undergoing change. Nations of Europe remain fearful they will be overrun no matter how much of their national income they pour into military programs. More and more, emphasis is being given to economic and political integration of the free world—behind a shield of implied United States protection from attack.

The American approach to underdeveloped nations is changing. President Eisenhower has indicated more effort will be made to show respect for the aspirations and traditions of such countries and to the right of a nation to consider itself neutral in the struggle between the two great blocs. This implies offers of aid with no strings attached.

The Communist trade lure is being recognized as an attempt to break the unity of the West. The Soviet Union and Red China aim at forcing an open break on the issue of the strategic goods embargo. The United States is cautiously countering with a review of its embargo policies.

Communist trade with the West must depend, however, upon mutual confidence in contracts. Western businessmen can still see many reasons why trade with Red nations could be hazardous. There is a proved lack of Communist ability to perform except where political considerations make performance a must. There remain obstacles in the way of communication, contacts and in the unrealistic exchange rates.

In the fields of science and education, there has been a tendency in the west to take Soviet claims at face value and thus overestimate Soviet gains. But this also has provided a spur for the West. There is evidence of more willingness to face up to western weaknesses in these fields. President Eisenhower's recent call for free world cooperation in research and education is part of this picture.

The United States, leader in the free world's struggle to remain free, has a shortage of scientific and technical personnel, more in research and development than in production. A broad campaign to correct this is about to get under way. But educators warn this must not be done at the expense of liberal education which, they insist, gives flexibility and avoids the Soviet pitfall of channeling talents into narrow fields.

Watch Out For 'Junior' During Family Trips

Vacation Time May Prove Very Trying Period In Summer

"Junior" often gets sick when the family goes on vacation? Don't always blame it on how much he eats; sometimes it's what he eats or drinks.

Dr. Benton V. D. Scott, Fayette County Health Commissioner, today pointed out the food, water, or milk obtainable when traveling may sometimes be unsafe.

On these subjects his suggestions to vacation planners were: "FOOD — When traveling in Ohio, only dine at eating places displaying a food service license. The yellow and black license indicates the dining spot has been thoroughly inspected by a public health sanitarian for good sanitary practices.

"As for picnics, don't keep foods out in the 80-90 degree heat for long periods. They'll spoil and make you sick.

"Give special care to those delicate foods so popular for picnics, such as potato salads, egg dishes, canned meats, custards and cream-filled pastries. Refrigerate them at 50 degrees or less right up until serving time.

"WATER — Don't drink just any water. Be sure it's from an approved source. In Ohio, better stick to official state roadside parks, or state-approved drinking water spots.

"MILK — It should be pasteurized and, of course, refrigerated. "If you're not sure of the safety of any eating place, water, or milk, avoid it. Better yet, check with the local Health Department," Dr. Scott concluded.

MARCUS NAMED GREENFIELD — Everett Marcus, former head football coach of McClain High School for three years, has been appointed head grid mentor at the new Belmont High School in suburban Dayton. For two years he has been assistant coach at Stivers High in Dayton.

4-H Club Activities

BUSY BEAVERS

Girls in the Busy Beavers Club are as busy as beavers these days, getting ready for the county fair. The young ladies are working on sewing projects of all sorts for the big show.

At a regular meeting held Monday, Karen Hyer gave a demonstration of apron pattern-cutting for the girls. The demonstration made up the body of, the brief meeting.

Club members are working on sewing projects that range all the way from the young girls 'Let's Sew,' sewing book projects through to some tailoring projects that are being done by the junior leaders.

Monday's meeting was held at the home of the advisor, Jo Reiff. Nancy Crooks conducted the session.

Despite the fact that they're hard at work getting set for the fair now, the girls will take a break Wednesday when they hold a meeting at the swimming pool.

BUZZ'N' DUZZ'N'

The Buzz'n' Duzz'n club spent their recent meeting discussing plans for 4-H camp, coming up for them soon.

All the youngsters in the club are looking forward to the camp, which is only a few weeks away now.

Bonnie Minshall conducted the meeting, which included filling out of health sheets and plans for sewing project work at the next session.

Next meeting will be held June 9 at the home of the advisor, Mrs. John Sheeley.

WAYNE SNIPPER-SNAPPERS

The Wayne Snipper-Snappers were looking forward today to getting a real boost for their treasury from a scrap drive that they plan to hold June 12.

Club members will tour the streets picking up scrap of almost any sort for resale. Profits will go into the club till.

People who wish to donate scrap to the club call Mrs. Dana Kellenberger at 44986; or Miss Margaret Jett at 45508; or Miss Linda Forsythe at 45762.

Plans for the drive were discussed at a meeting of the group held at Wayne Hall. Some 20 members were present at the session. Karen Thompson read a treasurer's report and Jackie Pope a secretary's report.

A demonstration on drop biscuits was given at the session by Margaret Best. Refreshments were served by Karen Newman, Evelyn Deacon and Shirzey Sollars.

Next meeting will be held June 11.

STAR FASHIONETTES

Project work took up most of the time at a regular meeting of the Bloomingburg Star Fashionettes, held at the Bloomingburg school.

Members are hard at work to get their things finished and ready for display by fair time.

Plans were made at the session for a swimming party and a mothers' tea, to be held sometime soon.

Gloria Cleland conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Lloyd Moberly is adviser to the group, while the junior leaders are Glenna Watkins, Marilyn Heistand and Mary Cook.

Cleveland Sailors To Get New Ship

CLEVELAND (AP)—Naval reservists in the Cleveland area soon will have a fully-equipped, wooden-hulled ship for their weekend training cruises.

The Navy has permanently assigned the U.S.S. Holladayburg, a patrol craft, to the reserve activities here. The ship has undergone an overhaul at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. It will follow the St. Lawrence Seaway route here.

Stalin's Body Due To Be Removed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Will they remove Joseph Stalin's body from its place of highest honor in Moscow's Red Square?

Stalin lies in death alongside V. I. Lenin. Western speculation about how long this would last drew a double boost this week:

1. Publication Monday by the State Department of a version of Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev's secret speech last February denouncing Stalin as a psychopathic despot.

2. Yugoslav President Tito's pointed snub of the dead Stalin. On a Moscow visit, Tito laid flowers at Lenin's tomb but never even glanced at Stalin's.

Benson Asks Bids On New Animal Lab

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson is asking interested groups to submit proposals by June 21 for a site for a new $18,915,000 animal disease laboratory authorized by Congress.

The proposals will be considered by a site committee at a meeting in St. Louis June 27. The deadline set, however, does not preclude consideration of other proposals, the department said.

The committee will consist of representatives of the land grant colleges, the veterinary medical profession, state departments of agriculture and livestock sanitary officials.

There were 10 deaths for every billion passenger miles of domestic scheduled airline operation in 1955.

IT'S THE WORLD'S strongest metal, a tiny "perfect crystal" of iron, 150 times strength of ordinary iron and four times strength of the strongest piano wire. The fingers and eye belong to Dr. J. Herbert Hollomon, GE's chief of metallurgy and ceramics research in Schenectady, N. Y. He told the Aviation Writers convention in San Francisco that improvements in the growing of iron crystals have made possible tensile strengths up to 1,900,000 pounds per square inch, which points to the day of wire-like girders and indestructible autos. IT'S SWITCHCRAFT — that's what it is!

You'll see when you try Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflo!

IT TAKES A NEW word to describe the magic at your command when you drive a '56 Buick — with the newest transmission of them all.

It's full power go-ahead on the instant. You can get where you were just looking in a shaved second's time — with the most modern and most thrilling surge of safety acceleration in the land today.

It's smoothness, too. Complete freedom from the "bump" and lag of gears shifting. Only with Dynaflo can you go winging away with so smooth a sweep.

And only with a '56 Buick can you enjoy Dynaflo's newest marvel. It's something the engineers call "double regeneration." Lets you start off like an Olympic sprinter, with the pedal pressed just an inch or less. (And driving that way, you get better gas mileage.)

There's more big news, too, that goes with this new Buick magic. And that covers a lot more than styling.

Sure — you'll like the graceful new beauty of the V-shaped prow and sweep-ahead look. And you'll like the extra room inside.

But as you drive you'll find that this Buick responds with the new might of a big, record-powered V8 engine of 322-cubic-inch heft.

It handles easy as butter to a warm knife. Tracks the curves like a plane on the beam. Makes any road seem paved with pillows.

And what's responsible for all this are more new engineering advances than Buick has ever made in one model year.

So why not come in and see — and feel — the difference they make? You'll soon know why owners find it's the best Buick yet — and the best buy yet, by far.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Americans Now Take Stock Of Their World Weakness

This implies offers of aid with no strings attached.

The Communist trade lure is being recognized as an attempt to break the unity of the West. The Soviet Union and Red China aim at forcing an open break on the issue of the strategic goods embargo. The United States is cautiously countering with a review of its embargo policies.

Communist trade with the West must depend, however, upon mutual confidence in contracts. Western businessmen can still see many reasons why trade with Red nations could be hazardous. There is a proved lack of Communist ability to perform except where political considerations make performance a must. There remain obstacles in the way of communication, contacts and in the unrealistic exchange rates.

In the fields of science and education, there has been a tendency in the west to take Soviet claims at face value and thus overestimate Soviet gains. But this also has provided a spur for the West. There is evidence of more willingness to face up to western weaknesses in these fields. President Eisenhower's recent call for free world cooperation in research and education is part of this picture.

The United States, leader in the free world's struggle to remain free, has a shortage of scientific and technical personnel, more in research and development than in production. A broad campaign to correct this is about to get under way. But educators warn this must not be done at the expense of liberal education which, they insist, gives flexibility and avoids the Soviet pitfall of channeling talents into narrow fields.

Watch Out For 'Junior' During Family Trips

Vacation Time May Prove Very Trying Period In Summer

"Junior" often gets sick when the family goes on vacation? Don't always blame it on how much he eats; sometimes it's what he eats or drinks.

Dr. Benton V. D. Scott, Fayette County Health Commissioner, today pointed out the food, water, or milk obtainable when traveling may sometimes be unsafe.

On these subjects his suggestions to vacation planners were: "FOOD — When traveling in Ohio, only dine at eating places displaying a food service license. The yellow and black license indicates the dining spot has been thoroughly inspected by a public health sanitarian for good sanitary practices.

"As for picnics, don't keep foods out in the 80-90 degree heat for long periods. They'll spoil and make you sick.

"Give special care to those delicate foods so popular for picnics, such as potato salads, egg dishes, creamed meats, custards and cream-filled pastries. Refrigerate them at 50 degrees or less right up until serving time.

"WATER — Don't drink just any water. Be sure it's from an approved source. In Ohio, better stick to official state roadside parks, or state-approved drinking water spots.

"MILK — It should be pasteurized and, of course, refrigerated. "If you're not sure of the safety of any eating place, water, or milk, avoid it. Better yet, check with the local Health Department," Dr. Scott concluded.

MARCUM NAMED
GREENFIELD — Everett Marcum, former head football coach of McClain High School for three years, has been appointed head grid mentor at the new Belmont High School in suburban Dayton. For two years he has been assistant coach at Stivers High in Dayton.

4-H Club Activities

BUSY BEAVERS

Girls in the Busy Beavers Club are as busy as beavers these days, getting ready for the county fair.

The young ladies are working on sewing projects of all sorts for the big show.

At a regular meeting held Monday, Karen Hyer gave a demonstration of apron pattern-cutting for the girls. The demonstration made up the body of the brief meeting.

Club members are working on sewing projects that range all the way from the young girls 'Let's Sew,' sewing book projects through to some tailoring projects that are being done by the junior leaders.

Monday's meeting was held at the home of the advisor, Jo Reiff. Nancy Crooks conducted the session.

Despite the fact that they're hard at work getting set for the fair now, the girls will take a break Wednesday when they hold a meeting at the swimming pool.

BUZZ'N' DUZZ'N'
The Buzz'n' Duzz'n club spent their recent meeting discussing plans for 4-H camp, coming up for them soon.

All the youngsters in the club are looking forward to the camp, which is only a few weeks away now.

Bonnie Minshall conducted the meeting, which included filling out of health sheets and plans for sewing project work at the next session.

Next meeting will be held June 9 at the home of the advisor, Mrs. John Sheeley.

WAYNE, SNIPPER-SNAPPERS
The Wayne Snipper-Snappers were looking forward today to getting a real boost for their treasury from a scrap drive that they plan to hold June 12.

Club members will tour the streets picking up scrap of almost any sort for resale. Profits will go into the club tills.

People who wish to donate scrap to the club call Mrs. Dana Kellenberger at 44986; or Miss Margaret Nest at 45508; or Miss Linda Forsythe at 45762.

Plans for the drive were discussed at a meeting of the group held at Wayne Hall. Some 20 members were present at the session.

Karen Thompson read a treasurer's report and Jackie Pope a secretary's report.

A demonstration on drop biscuits was given at the session by Margaret Best. Refreshments were served by Karen Newman, Evelyn Deacon and Shirzey Sollars.

Next meeting will be held June 11.

STAR FASHIONETTES

Project work took up most of the time at a regular meeting of the Bloomingburg Star Fashionettes, held at the Bloomingburg school.

Members are hard at work to get their things finished and ready for display by fair time.

Plans were made at the session for a swimming party and a mothers' tea, to be held sometime soon.

Gloria Cleland conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Lloyd Moberly is adviser to the group, while the junior leaders are Glenna Watkins, Marilyn Heistand and Mary Cook.

Cleveland Sailors To Get New Ship

CLEVELAND (AP)—Naval reservists in the Cleveland area soon will have a fully-equipped, wooden-hulled ship for their weekend training cruises.

The Navy has permanently assigned the U.S.S. Holladaysburg, a patrol craft, to the reserve activities here. The ship has undergone an overhaul at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. It will follow the St. Lawrence Seaway route here.

Stalin's Body Due To Be Removed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Will they remove Joseph Stalin's body from its place of highest honor in Moscow's Red Square?

Stalin lies in death alongside V. I. Lenin. Western speculation about how long this would last drew a double boost this week:

1. Publication Monday by the State Department of a version of Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev's secret speech last February denouncing Stalin as a psychopathic despot.

2. Yugoslav President Tito's pointed snub of the dead Stalin. On a Moscow visit, Tito laid flowers at Lenin's tomb but never even glanced at Stalin's.

Benson Asks Bids On New Animal Lab

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson is asking interested groups to submit proposals by June 21 for a site for a new $18,915,000 animal disease laboratory authorized by Congress.

The proposals will be considered by a site committee at a meeting in St. Louis June 27. The deadline set, however, does not preclude consideration of other proposals, the department said.

The committee will consist of representatives of the land grant leaders in the livestock industry, colleges, the veterinary medical profession, state departments of agriculture and livestock sanitary officials.

There were 10 deaths for every billion passenger miles of domestic scheduled airline operation in 1955.

IT'S THE WORLD'S strongest metal, a tiny "perfect crystal" of iron, 150 times strength of ordinary iron and four times strength of the strongest piano wire. The fingers and eye belong to Dr. J. Herbert Hollomon, GE's chief of metallurgy and ceramics research in Schenectady, N. Y. He told the Aviation Writers convention in San Francisco that improvements in the growing of iron crystals have made possible tensile strengths up to 1,900,000 pounds per square inch, which points to the day of wire-like girders and indestructible autos. IT'S SWITCHCRAFT — that's what it is!

You'll see when you try Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflo!

IT TAKES A new word to describe the magic at your command when you drive a '56 Buick—with the newest transmission of them all.

It's full power go-ahead on the instant. You can get where you were just looking in a shaved second's time—with the most modern and most thrilling surge of safety acceleration in the land today.

It's smoothness, too. Complete freedom from the "bump" and lag of gears shifting. Only with Dynaflo can you go winging away with so smooth a sweep.

And only with a '56 Buick can you enjoy Dynaflo's newest marvel. It's something the engineers call "double regeneration." Lets you start off like an Olympic sprinter, with the pedal pressed just an inch or less. (And driving that way, you get better gas mileage.)

There's more big news, too, that goes with this new Buick magic. And that covers a lot more than styling.

Sure—you'll like the graceful new beauty of the V-shaped prow and sweep-ahead look. And you'll like the extra room inside.

But as you drive you'll find that this Buick responds with the new might of a big, record-powered V8 engine of 322-cubic-inch heft.

It handles easy as butter to a warm knife. Tracks the curves like a plane on the beam. Makes any road seem paved with pillows.

And what's responsible for all this are more new engineering advances than Buick has ever made in one model year.

So why not come in and see—and feel—the difference they make? You'll soon know why owners find it's the best Buick yet—and the best buy yet, by far.

Speed Control Is Life Saver Officer States

Chief Long Points To Records Proving Claim Is Correct

All 48 states are giving a great deal of attention to vehicle speed during the summer months.

Chief of Police Vaiden Long of Washington, C. H. said that the "Slow Down and Live" campaign began in a few eastern states several years ago. It was so successful in keeping down traffic casualties that more than half of the states joined in the program last year and now it is coast to coast and border to border.

The results of previous years and many traffic studies give ample evidence that casualties are reduced when speed is kept under control.

Chief Long points out that speed doesn't necessarily produce accidents, but it does reduce the length of time in which a driver may take corrective action and increases the distance in which he can stop his car, so that he is more likely to be involved in an accident when he is operating at high speeds.

The degree of injury increases quite rapidly once the operating speed goes above 50 miles an hour.

EVERY ARGUMENT is in favor of maintaining speeds below the posted legal limits. Gasoline and oil consumption goes up pretty rapidly once you get above a cruising range in the neighborhood of 40 miles an hour. The wear on brakes and tires increases. The out-of-pocket cost of operating a vehicle at high speeds is considerably greater than at more moderate paces.

It is difficult for many people to realize that it takes 360 feet to stop a car at 60 miles an hour and that same car can be stopped at about 32 feet at 20 miles an hour.

The posted speed limit is the maximum speed permissible under the most favorable conditions.

Rain or fog makes that posted speed much too fast for those conditions, too fast to give you a chance to stop in the assured clear distance ahead. The wet pavement increases stopping distance, rain or fog, cuts your vision so that you can't see so far. At night you should be able to stop within the strip of pavement that is illuminated by your headlights. Chief Long points out that you are going too fast if you are passing more

Ohio's law requires that you operate your car at a speed which will allow you to stop in the assured clear distance ahead. That is the space between you and the car in front of you, and on the open road it is necessary that you have at least six car lengths between you and the car ahead when you are operating at 50 miles an hour. In town, staying within the legal 35 mile limit on through streets, you should have at least four car lengths between you and the car you are following.

'Oldest' Trace Of Man Found

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — A German archeologist claims he has discovered the oldest traces of man.

Dr. Alfred Rust said he has uncovered 50 handmade, sandstone tools which he estimates are one million years old in a gravel pit in Communist East Germany.

The archeologist said that there has been no previous evidence that man lived much more than 500,000 years ago.

Dr. Rust, who is connected with the Schleswig-Holstein State Museum at Schleswig, reported the tools were unearthed near Meiningen, 10 miles from the West German border.

Children's Home School Rule Given

COLUMBUS (AP) — The school district in which a child resided before being placed in a county children's home must bear the expense of educating him, the Ohio attorney general has ruled.

Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill's opinion added that such a child should be admitted to the schools of the district in which the home is located. And, when school facilities are not available in the district in which the home is located, the child may properly be placed in the schools of another district.

Ex-School Clerk Awaiting Sentence

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert H. Montgomery, 35, former clerk treasurer of the Fairview Park school board, has pleaded guilty in common pleas court to embezzling $35,000 in school funds.

Judge Edward Blythin deferred sentencing for a probation report.

Restitution in the amount of $10,050 has been made through Montgomery's sale of three foreign cars and a cabin cruiser. Montgomery is expected to sell his home to make up the remainder.

Memories

By JACOB MILLER

The little Red Schoolhouse is slowly disappearing; what fond memories come to us, who used to trudge the one, two or three miles to school, sometimes through some dense woods, and we would imagine some Gipsy or wild animal was waiting for us.

We always had chores to do before going to school, and of an evening, there was that "everlasting" wood to cut and carry in for the cook-stove and fireplace, then as night fell, we would light the old coal-oil lamp with a lamp-lighter made of rolled-up paper, which we would take to the fireplace and light it, then with the lighted waf-er, take the chimney off the lamp and light it, then place the chimney back on the lamp.

The kerosene in those days was not very pure, and had a tendency to smoke the chimney of the lamp; every morning the chimney would be pretty black with carbon, and we would take a soft cloth and reach in with a hand and wipe the chimney. As a finishing touch, we would blow our breath into the chimney, then give it the final rubbing.

My parents retired quite early, but they would permit me to study my lessons or practice drawing. I like to fish and swim in summer, hunt and trap in winter. My father liked out-door sports, and we had lots of good times together.

Once in a while, I still pass my old school-house, and in fancy, I can see a little boy, at the black-board, working a problem in arithmetic or reciting a McGuffey lesson; or sometimes I can see a big boy in the last year of school, he can hardly wait until he is out in the

Yes sir, he is going to travel and see things, no more of Har-very's grammar; what on earth can anyone see in parsing a noun, I thought. We had a great teacher, and he had a fondness for music; he taught us how to sing, and we had a singing teacher who came once a week and gave us pupils, singing lessons.

I was considered, a fine alto, and some, called me "That Singer Boy". We would have singing contests with other schools, and we usually won. This teacher, Hugh Pinkerton, would open school of a morning, with a prayer, then he would have us read several verses from the Bible. In the afternoon, he would tell us of his trips the previous summer, or read something from the poets, or sometimes he would talk on a dry subject, like Civil government. Yes, the old boy, tried his best to make something out of us, but "some of the seed fell on poor ground".

What a great thing it would be if the old classmates could meet at the City Park, once a year, for a reunion. I mean the whole county. We could play games, we played way back "yander". You remember the old spelling bee, and how you liked to get those head-marks, and beat everyone in the class.

Many of the old classmates, who have gone out into the World, and have won fame and fortune, might come from faraway places, for this reunion. What do you say, school-mates, let's be boys and girls, one day out of each year. Write and tell me what you think of this sort of reunion. May box number is 455, Washington C. H.

Rural Pupils Use Library Here

Service This Year Exceeds Last Year's

County school pupils made more use of Carnegie Public Library facilities in the past 12 months than during the previous year, Mrs. Florence Cook, acting librarian, disclosed today.

A total of 5,775 books were sent to the 13 county elementary and high schools during the school year. The consignments were in September and February. Total circulation reached 24,796.

The number of books distributed to county schools exceeded last year's total by 672 and circulation was 2,500 more than a year ago.

A number of rural teachers brought their pupils to the library during the school term to acquaint them with the facilities here. Among the visiting groups were Staunton fifth and sixth grades, Eber fourth and fifth grades and Bloomingburg junior and senior high school classes.

Mrs. Cook's files contain a number of "thank you" notes from county pupils who were borrowers or library visitors during the term.

Highland Home Coming Set For Next Sunday

Plans, for a big homecoming next Sunday at the high school in Highland today were just about complete. Mrs. James R. Rose, 729 Washington Ave., said.

The event is for all the residents of the community around the vil-lage of Highland west of Leesburg as well as all former residents. There is to be a basket dinner at 2 o'clock.

Members of the class of 1931 are to be the hosts and hostesses for the day.

Several Arrested By Local Officers

Six arrests have been made here for traffic law violations.

Conrad Bishop and Thomas Craig Rockhold were picked up on reckless operation charges and Raymond Charles Leverner of Jeffersonville was nabbed for excessive noise.

Rodney W. Tyree was cited for running red light and Gerald B. Waderker for excessive noise.

Carl Crimmbach, Dayton, was arrested by Sheriff Orland Hays on Route 35, on a reckless operation charge.

Library Schedule Of Hours Set Up

Carnegie Public Library will close at 6 P. M. on Saturdays and remain open until 9 P. M. Fri-days, the board of trustees agreed at a meeting this week.

The library will be open from 9 A. M. until 8 P. M. Mondays through Wednesdays and from 9 A. M. until noon Thursdays. The 9 A. M. opening hour will continue on Fridays and Saturdays.

Plans have been made to redecorate walls and woodwork during the summer months.

Speed Control Is Life Saver Officer States

Chief Long Points To Records Proving Claim Is Correct

All 48 states are giving a great deal of attention to vehicle speed during the summer months.

Chief of Police Vaiden Long of Washington C. H. said that the "Slow Down and Live" campaign began in a few eastern states several years ago. It was so successful in keeping down traffic casualties that more than half of the states joined in the program last year and now it is coast to coast and border to border.

The results of previous years and many traffic studies give ample evidence that casualties are reduced when speed is kept under control.

Chief Long points out that speed doesn't necessarily produce accidents, but it does reduce the length of time in which a driver may take corrective action and increases the distance in which he can stop his car, so that he is more likely to be involved in an accident when he is operating at high speeds.

The degree of injury increases quite rapidly once the operating speed goes above 50 miles an hour.

EVERY ARGUMENT is in favor of maintaining speeds below the posted legal limits. Gasoline and oil consumption goes up pretty rapidly once you get above a cruising range in the neighborhood of 40 miles an hour. The wear on brakes and tires increases. The out-of-pocket cost of operating a vehicle at high speeds is considerably greater than at more moderate paces.

It is difficult for many people to realize that it takes 360 feet to stop a car at 60 miles an hour and that same car can be stopped at about 32 feet at 20 miles an hour.

The posted speed limit is the maximum speed permissible under the most favorable conditions.

Rain or fog makes that posted speed much too fast for those conditions, too fast to give you a chance to stop in the assured clear distance ahead. The wet pavement increases stopping distance, rain or fog, cuts your vision so that you can't see so far. At night you should be able to stop within the strip of pavement that is illuminated by your headlights. Chief Long points out that you are going too fast if you are passing more cars than are passing you.

Ohio's law requires that you operate your car at a speed which will allow you to stop in the assured clear distance ahead. That is the space between you and the car in front of you, and on the open road it is necessary that you have at least six car lengths between you and the car ahead when you are operating at 50 miles an hour. In town, staying within the legal 35 mile limit on through streets, you should have at least four car lengths between you and the car you are following.

'Oldest' Trace Of Man Found

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — A German archeologist claims he has discovered the oldest traces of man.

Dr. Alfred Rust said he has uncovered 50 handmade, sandstone tools which he estimates are one million years old in a gravel pit in Communist East Germany.

The archeologist said that there has been no previous evidence that man lived much more than 500,000 years ago.

Dr. Rust, who is connected with the Schleswig-Holstein State Museum at Schleswig, reported the tools were unearthed near Meiningen, 10 miles from the West German border.

Children's Home School Rule Given

COLUMBUS (AP) — The school district in which a child resided before being placed in a county children's home must bear the expense of educating him, the Ohio attorney general has ruled.

Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill's opinion added that such a child should be admitted to the schools of the district in which the home is located. And, when school facilities are not available in the district in which the home is located, the child may properly be placed in the schools of another district.

Ex-School Clerk Awaiting Sentence

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert H. Montgomery, 35, former clerk-treasurer of the Fairview Park school board, has pleaded guilty in common pleas court to embezzling $35,000 in school funds.

Judge Edward Blythin deferred sentencing for a probation report.

Restitution in the amount of $10,050 has been made through Montgomery's sale of three foreign cars and a cabin cruiser. Montgomery is expected to sell his home to make up the remainder.

Memories

By JACOB MILLER

The little Red Schoolhouse is slowly disappearing; what fond memories come to us, who used to trudge the one, two or three miles to school, sometimes through some dense woods, and we would imagine some Gipsy or wild animal was waiting for us.

We always had chores to do before going to school, and of an evening, there was that "everlasting" wood to cut and carry in for the cook-stove and fireplace, then as night fell, we would light the old coal-oil lamp with a lamp-lighter made of rolled-up paper, which we would take to the fireplace and light it, then with the lighted wick, take the chimney off the lamp and light it, then place the chimney back on the lamp.

The kerosene in those days was not very pure, and had a tendency to smoke the chimney of the lamp; every morning the chimney would be pretty black with carbon, and we would take a soft cloth and reach in with a hand and wipe the chimney. As a finishing touch, we would blow our breath into the chimney, then give it the final rubbing.

My parents retired quite early, but they would permit me to study my lessons or practice drawing. I like to fish and swim in summer, hunt and trap in winter. My father liked out-door sports, and we had lots of good times together.

Once in a while, I still pass my old school-house, and in fancy, I can see a little boy, at the blackboard, working a problem in arithmetic or reciting a McGuffey lesson; or sometimes I can see a big boy in the last year of school, he can hardly wait until he is out in the big world, where he won't have to get any more lessons.

Yes sir, he is going to travel and see things, no more of Harveys's grammar; what on earth can anyone see in parsing a noun, I thought. We had a great teacher, and he had a fondness for music; he taught us how to sing, and we had a singing teacher who came once a week and gave us pupils, singing lessons.

I was considered, a fine alto, and some, called me "That Singer Boy". We would have singing contests with other schools, and we usually won. Jack Burke Pulls Through Win Barrier

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. (P)—The hardest golf tournament to win is your first. Then its your first major championship. After a golfer gets past those two barriers he can figure on winning pretty consistently.

That's the opinion of Jack Burke, who staged his big breakthrough two months ago in the Masters and now has his eyes on the U.S. Open Championship.

Burke faced 15 other top pros in the first round of the unique Round Robin Tournament today on the hilly, rocky Wykagyl course. Off his Masters victory, he should be listed among the favorites but he's more concerned about how he'll do in the Open next week.

"I've been playing a little too much golf lately and I haven't been putting well," he explained before starting out with former British Open champion Henry Cotton, Tommy Bolt and Bob Rosburg in the first tussle for plus and minus points. "On those short courses we've been playing you can't do anything unless you're putting."

Burke had along, tough haul before he won his first big one. He's been among the leading money winners ever since he turned pro and he has won plenty of tournaments after getting past his first victory. But until he slipped home in front at Augusta last April he looked like another of those players who always falter in the major events.

Boyd Sets Sights On Sugar's Title

CHICAGO (P)—Gangly Bobby Boyd of Chicago has made a strong pitch for a chance at Sugar Ray Robinson's middleweight crown.

Boyd, 22, won his ninth straight victory here last night.

He scored a 10th-round TKO over 30-year-old Milo Savage, who was the last fighter to defeat Boyd. Savage's manager Jack McCarthy said he had motioned to Referee Joey White to stop it because "Savage seemed like he was getting paralyzed and was complaining of his back hurting."

MANAGER QUILTS

Jack Burke Pulls Through Win Barrier

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. (AP)—The hardest golf tournament to win is your first. Then its your first major championship. After a golfer gets past those two barriers he can figure on winning pretty consistently.

That's the opinion of Jack Burke, who staged his big break-through two months ago in the Masters and now has his eyes on the U.S. Open Championship.

Burke faced 15 other top pros in the first round of the unique Round Robin Tournament today on the hilly, rocky Wykagyl course. Off his Masters victory, he should be listed among the favorites but he's more concerned about how he'll do in the Open next week.

"I've been playing a little too much golf lately and I haven't been putting well," he explained before starting out with former British Open champion Henry Cotton, Tommy Bolt and Bob Rosburg in the first tussle for plus and minus points. "On those short courses we've been playing you can't do anything unless you're putting."

Burke had along, tough haul before he won his first big one. He's been among the leading money winners ever since he turned pro and he has won plenty of tournaments after getting past his first victory. But until he slipped home in front at Augusta last April he looked like another of those players who always falter in the major events.

Boyd Sets Sights On Sugar's Title

CHICAGO (AP)—Gangly Bobby Boyd of Chicago has made a strong pitch for a chance at Sugar Ray Robinson's middleweight crown.

Boyd, 22, won his ninth straight victory here last night.

He scored a 10th-round TKO over 30-year-old Milo Savage, who was the last fighter to defeat Boyd. Savage's manager Jack McCarthy said he had motioned to Referee Joey White to stop it because "Savage seemed like he was getting paralyzed and was complaining of his back hurting."

MANAGER QUILTS

XENIA — City Manager Jephtha J. Carrell and president of the city commission, Robert C. Shaw, have resigned. Carrell was drawing $9,220 a year and goes to Chicago as director of training of the International City Managers Association.

Bum Pitching Keeps Dodgers In Running

Compy In Big Slump, But Brooklyn Crew Only 2 Games Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

So the Pittsburgh Pirates win five of seven and Cincinnati wins five of six and St. Louis takes four of five. But how about those Brooklyn Dodgers? They win four straight the hard way—with Roy Campanella in a slump.

Campanella, three times the National League's most valuable player, is hitting .230 without a home run since May 3, no extra base hit since May 15 and no run batted in since May 22. This can't be what the world champions had in mind when they made him the highest paid Dodger yet with a $42,500 contract.

What's more, the big catcher isn't alone. Duke Snider, at .205, and Randy Jackson, at .251, are the only Brook regulars hitting over .300. And Jackson just made the first string six days ago, taking over third base from Jackie Robinson (.228).

What's the answer? Pitching. The Dodgers made a sweep of a three-game set at Milwaukee Wednesday night with Don Newcombe's five-hitter beating the Braves 5-2. Milwaukee, losing six of seven, had only 10 hits in the series as the Dodgers got three complete games from their pitching staff.

Sal Maglie three-hit the Braves Monday 3-0. Roger Craig two-hit 'em Tuesday 6-1. And then came Newk, winning his eighth. The three right-handers gave up just one walk apiece, and struck out 14.

Brooklyn now is but 8 percent .500 points shy of the fourth-place Braves. Both are four games behind first-place Pittsburgh, which walloped the Chicago Cubs 8-2. Cincinnati, 4 points back, smacked Philadelphia 7-3. And St. Louis, 4 points farther back, cracked New York 3-2 in 11 innings.

The American League got back to normal Boston ended Detroit's winning streak at seven games 5-4 and the New York Yankees kept their 3½-game lead by breaking their four-game losing string 10-5 against Kansas City. Cleveland remained in second, beating Baltimore 2-1. Chicago's White Sox lost at Washington 12-7.

Both Milwaukee runs were unearned, coming on Hank Aaron's seventh homer after a two-out error in the first. Snider hit his 10th homer in the top of the first, then the Dodgers added one in the third and scored the clincher in the fifth when Jackson walked with the bases loaded. Gene Conley (1-2) was the loser.

A three-run homer by Frank Robinson and a solo shot by Gus Bell, both in the seventh inning, brought the Redlegs from behind and gave unbeaten Brooks Lawrence his seventh victory. Stu Miller was the loser.

The Cards tied it 2-all with a run after two were out in the ninth, then nailed it on Jackie Brandt's double off reliever Johnny Antonelli. Hoyt Wilhelm, third Giant pitcher, was the loser. Ellis Kinder won it.

Dale Long, Frank Thomas and Roberto Clemente homered for the Bucs as Ron Kline won his fifth and Paul Minner lost his fifth.

Three runs in the eighth cracked Detroit's string as Sammy White hit his second two-run single of the game to beat Paul Foytack. Tom Brewer won his eighth, with Ike Delock's help in a two-run Tiger ninth.

Yogi Berra's 11th homer and Bill Skowron's second helped the Yanks, who chased Tom LaSorda with an 8-0 edge by the third. Bob

Reds Starting To Benefit From Sluggers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Everyone keeps talking about the surprising Pittsburgh Pirates, but how about the Cincinnati Redlegs?

They have been buried in the National League's second division for even a longer time than Pittsburgh but a power-laden lineup has boomed them into a virtual tie with the Pirates for the National League lead. They're only four percentage points back.

Shell-shocked National League pitchers can attest to the power packed by the Redlegs. Everyone knew there was a lot of potential hitting when the season started but most observers figured it couldn't make up for a shaky pitching staff.

The Reds lost five of their first six games but then the power batters began to find the range, the pitching looked better than anyone expected and that fancy fielding second base-shortstop combination of Johnny Temple and Roy McMillan started reeling off double plays.

But it's the hitting that is wrecking opposing teams.

Starting with rookie Frank Robinson, who bats second, here has been the home run output of five batters in a row—Robinson 12, Gus Bell 12, Ted Kluszewski 9, Wally Post 13 and Ray Jablonski 11.

Somebody, he complained, entered his hotel room and swiped two $100 bills he had hidden under his shirts in a bureau drawer. "I'll murder the bum if I catch up with him," Tony growled.

A local film firm announced last month it had picked the onetime heavyweight title contender, to play a gangster role in a movie.

Grim won with Tommy Byrne's relief. Cleveland bunched five of its seven hits in the fourth and fifth off Connie Johnson to score all its runs. Art Houtteman, leaving with a sore shoulder in the sixth, and Ray Narjeski blanked the Birds for 8 2/3 innings.

Washington beat Chicago a second straight time with 13 hits, including third-inning homers by Whitey Herzog and Carlos Paula.

Cardington Trotter Win At Lebanon

LEBANON (AP) — The Souvenir, owned and driven by Al Coder of Cardington, edged out a victory in the featured Class CC trot at the Lebanon Raceway last night as the heavily favored Colonel Pal broke stride coming down the stretch.

The Souvenir had taken the lead at the halfway mark but Colonel Pal, owned and driven by Harry Sanner of Elida, was closing the gap when he broke. The Souvenir set a new time mark for himself by winning in 2:09.4.

Mary Faulk Leads Triangle Tourney

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., served notice today she's playing some of her finest golf and intends to win the $12,000 Triangle Tournament.

Miss Faulk carried a four-point advantage into today's second round of the 90-hole tourney being played over the 6,065-yard, par 71 Cavalier Country Club course.

Miss Faulk matched par yesterday for a pace-setting score of plus 20. Four points behind was 21-year-old Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif.

Mantle Shift Being Shunned By Managers

NEW YORK (AP) — Let Boudreau get the credit, we'll try to get Mantle out honestly.

That was Detroit Manager Buck Harris' blunt retort to a query whether he intended to follow the lead of Kansas City Manager Lou Roudreau, who has come up with a stunning right-side shift against Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' center field star.

Cleveland, for the first time against Mantle in Tuesday night's game between the Yankees and Athletics.

Twice he threw it at Mantle and twice the switch hitter struck out after failing to lay down a bunt. The shift apparently has the young slugger upset.

Boudreau tried it again yesterday on two occasions. Each time Mantle was retired, once on a fly to deep center field, the other time via a strikeout.

But other American League managers, along with Harris, were not quick to accept Boudreau's shift as the way to stop the Yankee slugger.

"He's not easy to shift on," said Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians.

"Unlike Ted Williams, Mantle hits all over. The Williams' shift was

Expect To Have Fair Weekend Luck

COLUMBUS (AP)—Fair and warm late-spring weather is bringing better fishing to Ohio, the state wildlife division reports.

Here are the regional reports: Northwest — Most streams are roily or muddy. Lake St. Marys, East Harbor and Oxbow Lake are in good condition. Heavy catches of bass and bluegills reported.

Southeast and Central — Most streams are roily, but some parts of Big Walnut, Blacklick, Big Darby and Deer Creek are improving fast. Lake fishing is fair to good, especially in Jackson, Knox and Rocky Fork.

Southwest — Both lakes and streams are in fair to good fishing condition and the weekend outlook is good. Indian, Loranie, Kiser, Cowan and Stonelick are in fine shape and large catches are reported. Many small feeder streams also are in good shape.

M. D. Clark of Woodbury, Conn. has won the national doubles trap-shooting title three straight years.

Bum Pitching Keeps Dodgers In Running

Campy In Big Slump, But Brooklyn Crew Only 2 Games Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
So the Pittsburgh Pirates win five of seven and Cincinnati wins five of six and St. Louis takes four of five. But how about those Brooklyn Dodgers? They win four straight the hard way—with Roy Campanella in a slump.
Campy, three times the National League's most valuable player, is hitting .230, without a home run since May 3, no extra base hit since May 15 and no run batted in since May 22. This can't be what the world champions had in mind when they made him the highest paid dodger yet with a $42,500 contract.

What's more, the big catcher isn't alone. Duke Snider, at .205, and Randy Jackson, at .251, are the only Brook regulars hitting over .300. And Jackson just made the first string six days ago, taking over third base from Jackie Robinson (.228).

What's the answer? Pitching. The Dodgers made a sweep of three-game set at Milwaukee Wednesday night with Don Newcombe's five-hitter beating the Braves 3-2. Milwaukee, losing six of seven, had only 10 hits in the series as the Dodgers got three complete games from their pitching staff.

Sal Maglie three-hit the Braves Monday 3-0. Roger Craig two-hit 'em Tuesday 6-1. And then came Newk, winning his eighth. The three right-handers gave up just one walk apiece, and struck out 14.

Brooklyn now is but 8 percentage points shy of the fourth-place Braves. Both are two games behind first-place Pittsburgh, which walloped the Chicago Cubs 8-2. Cincinnati, 4 points back, smacked Philadelphia 7-3. And St. Louis, 4 points farther back, cracked New York 3-2 in 11 innings.

The American League got back to normal. Boston ended Detroit's winning streak at seven games 5-4 and the New York Yankees kept their 3½-game lead by breaking their four-game losing sting 10-5 against Kansas City. Cleveland remained in second, beating Baltimore 2-1. Chicago's White Sox lost at Washington 12-7.

Both Milwaukee runs were unearned, coming on Hank Aaron's seventh homer after a two-out error in the first. Snider hit his 10th homer in the top of the first, then the Dodgers added one in the third and scored the clincher in the fifth when Jackson walked with the bases loaded. Gene Conley (1-2) was the loser.

A three-run homer by Frank Robinson and a solo shot by Gus Bell, both in the seventh inning, brought the Redlegs from behind and gave unbeaten Brooks Lawrence his seventh victory. Stu Miller was the loser.

The Cards tied it 2-all with a run after two were out in the ninth, then nailed it on Jackie Brandt's double off reliever Johnny Antonelli. Hoyt Wilhelm, third Giant pitcher, was the loser. Ellis Kinder won it.

Dale Long, Frank Thomas and Roberto Clemente homered for the Bucs as Ron Kline won his fifth and Paul Minner lost his fifth.

Three runs in the eighth cracked Detroit's string as Sammy White hit his second two-run single of the game to beat Paul Foytack. Tom Brewer won his eighth, with Ike Delock's help in a two-run Tiger ninth.

Yogi Berra's 11th homer and Bill Skowron's second helped the Yanks, who chased Tom LaSorda with an 8-0 edge by the third. Bob

Reds Starting To Benefit From Sluggers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Everyone keeps talking about the surprising Pittsburgh Pirates, but how about the Cincinnati Redlegs?

They have been buried in the National League's second division for even a longer time than Pittsburgh but a power-laden lineup has boomed them into a virtual tie with the Pirates for the National League lead. They're only four percentage points back.

Cincinnati hasn't finished out of the second division since 1944 while the Pirates managed to get fourth in 1945 and 1948.

Shell-shocked National League pitchers can attest to the power packed by the Redlegs.

Everyone knew there was a lot of potential hitting when the season started but most observers figured it couldn't make up for a shaky pitching staff.

The Reds lost five of their first six games but then the power boys began to find the range, the pitching looked better than anyone expected and that fancy-fielding second base-shortstop combination of Johnny Temple and Roy McMillan started reeling off double plays.

But it's the hitting that is wrecking opposing teams.

Two-Ton Tony Cries 'Robbery'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Two-Ton Tony Galento, fighter-turned actor, told police last night: "I wuz robbed."

Somebody, he complained, entered his hotel room and swiped two $100 bills he had hidden under his shirts in a bureau drawer.

"I'll murder the bum if I catch up with him," Tony growled.

A local film firm announced last month it had picked the onetime heavy-weight title contender, to play a gangster role in a movie.

Grim won with Tommy Byrne's relief.

Cleveland bunched five of its seven hits in the fourth and fifth off Connie Johnson to score all its runs. Art Houtteman, leaving with a sore shoulder in the sixth, and Ray Narleski blanked the Birds for 8 2/3 innings.

Washington beat Chicago a second straight time with 13 hits, including third-inning homers by Whitey Herzog and Carlos Paula.

Cardington Trotter Win At Lebanon

LEBANON (AP) — The Souvenir, owned and driven by Al Coder of Cardington, edged out a victory in the featured Class CC trot at the Lebanon Raceway last night as the heavily favored Colonel Pal broke stride coming down the stretch.

The Souvenir had taken the lead at the halfway mark but Colonel Pal, owned and driven by Harry Sanner of Elda, was closing the gap when he broke. The Souvenir set a new time mark for himself by winning in 2:09.4.

Mary Faulk Leads Triangle Tourney

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., served notice today she's playing some of her finest golf and intends to win the $12,000 Triangle Tournament.

Miss Faulk carried a four-point advantage into today's second round of the 90-hole tourney being played over the 6,065-yard, par 71 Cavalier Country Club course.

Miss Faulk matched par yesterday for a pace-setting score of plus 20. Four points behind was 21-year-old Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif.

Mantle Shift Being Shunned By Managers

That was Detroit Manager Bucky Harris' blunt retort to a query whether he intended to follow the lead of Kansas City Manager Lou Boudreau, who has come up with a stunning right-side shift against Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' center field star.

Boudreau tried the maneuver, an exaggerated version of the "Ted Williams shift" which Lou concocted in 1946 while managing

Cleveland, for the first time against Mantle in Tuesday night's game between the Yankees and Athletics.

Twice he threw it at Mantle and twice the switch hitter struck out after failing to lay down a bunt. The shift apparently has the young slugger upset.

Boudreau tried it again yesterday on two occasions. Each time Mantle was retired, once on a fly to deep center field, the other time via a strikeout.

But other American League managers, along with Harris, were not quick to accept Boudreau's shift as the way to stop the Yankee slugger.

"He's not easy to shift on," said Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians. "Unlike Ted Williams, Mantle hits all over. The Williams' shift was

Expect To Have Fair Weekend Luck

COLUMBUS (AP)—Fair and warm late-spring weather is bringing better fishing to Ohio, the state wildlife division reports.

Here are the regional reports: Northwest — Most streams are roily or muddy. Lake St. Marys, East Harbor and Oxbow Lake are in good condition. Heavy catches of bass and bluegills reported.

Southeast and Central — Most streams are roily, but some parts of Big Walnut, Blacklick, Big Darby and Deer Creek are improving fast. Lake fishing is fair to good, especially in Jackson, Knox and Rocky Fork.

Southwest — Both lakes and streams are in fair to good fishing condition and the weekend outlook is good. Indian, Loramie, Kiser, Cowan and Stonelick are in fine shape and large catches are reported. Many small feeder streams also are in good shape.

M. D. Clark of Woodbury, Conn. has won the national doubles trap-shooting title three straight years.

Intercontinental Missile Defense Weapon Seen Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Gen. Earle C. Partridge says American scientists have worked out, in principle, a weapon to defend this country against a still-unperfected Soviet intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM).

But, he added, this counter-weapon "has not yet been translated into any hardware and until we can figure out a way to make the thing work operationally, I do not rest very easy."

Partridge is chief of both the

Continental Defense Command and the Air Defense Command. He discussed the potential Russian air threat to the United States during secret testimony April 30 and May 1 before a Senate Armed Services subcommittee studying relative U. S.-Soviet air strength.

The general's testimony was made public by the subcommittee last night, but in a heavily-censored form.

Partridge said both American and Russian scientists are striving to develop an accurate missile capable of speeding a hydrogen warhead thousands of miles in a matter of minutes.

THE GENERAL did not give a published estimate of which side is ahead in the vital missile race, but he pictured the threat of a Soviet ICBM attack as "so frightening to me that we just can not afford to put less effort into the defense than we can into the offense."

Although he said at a later public hearing that the most advanced Soviet bombers could fly higher and faster than American interceptors, his closed-door testimony showed he feels confident his defense units could "take care of the Soviet threat up through the manned bomber."

Furthermore, Partridge said that with swift new jet fighters, more powerful radar detection devices and a far-ranging communications network, he expects his defense command to be able to handle the growing Soviet air power menace for the next several years.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today confirmed the nomination of Fred A. Seaton to be secretary of the interior by unanimous vote.

Intercontinental Missile Defense Weapon Seen Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Gen. Earle C. Partridge says American scientists have worked out, in principle, a weapon to defend this country against a still-unperfected Soviet intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM).

But, he added, this counter-weapon "has not yet been translated into any hardware and until we can figure out a way to make the thing work operationally, I do not rest very easy."

Partridge is chief of both the

Continental Defense Command and the Air Defense Command. He discussed the potential Russian air threat to the United States during secret testimony April 30 and May 1 before a Senate Armed Services subcommittee studying relative U. S.-Soviet air strength.

The general's testimony was made public by the subcommittee last night, but in a heavily-censored form. Partridge said both American and Russian scientists are striving to develop an accurate missile capable of speeding a hydrogen warhead thousands of miles in a matter of minutes.

THE GENERAL did not give a published estimate of which side is ahead in the vital missile race, but he pictured the threat of a Soviet ICBM attack as "so frightening to me that we just can not afford to put less effort into the defense than we can into the offense."

Although he said at a later public hearing that the most advanced Soviet bombers could fly higher and faster than American interceptors, his closed-door testimony showed he feels confident his defense units could "take care of the Soviet threat up through the manned bomber."

Furthermore, Partridge said that with swift new jet fighters, more powerful radar detection devices and a far-ranging communications network, he expects his defense command to be able to handle the growing Soviet air power menace for the next several years.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today confirmed the nomination of Fred A. Seaton to be secretary of the interior by unanimous vote.

Mollet Gets New Mandate On Rebellion

PARIS (AP)—Premier Guy Mollet has a new mandate from the National Assembly to put down the nationalist rebellion in Algeria but less than half the deputies would stand up and be counted as supporters of the government.

Mollet won a vote of confidence 271-59 last night on his Cabinet's entire policy. Of the 595 Assembly members, 201 abstained. Only the center factions supported the premier, and the vote was far short of the backing which voted him into office. The large number of abstentions resulted from the catch-all nature of the resolution.

It called for approval of the entire range of government actions in the financial, economic and foreign fields, plus its handling of the Algerian, Tunisian and Moroccan issues.

The Communists abstained because they oppose the recall of army reservists and the tough military campaign being waged to suppress the 19-month-old rebellion in Algeria.

Members of the right-wing independent peasant party, who believe in fighting to the last ditch in North Africa, abstained because Mollet granted independence for Tunisia and Morocco.

Singer To Settle For Rental Damage

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Mario Lanza has settled for $9,000 a $40,000 suit filed against him for damage to an estate he leased.

A stipulation provides that Lanza will make full payment within 180 days to Mrs. Norman Kaiser, owner of the Bel-Air property. Mrs. Kaiser said the Lanzas marred and scarred wall and floor coverings and ceilings, besides damaging the grounds.

Elks Campaign For Flag Day

Show Colors June 14, Lodge Officials Urge

Samuel W. Douds, exalted ruler of Washington C. H. Elks Lodge No. 129 today called for a community-wide demonstration of loyalty to flag and country on Flag Day, June 14.

Douds urges every citizen to cooperate in the Elks' "Show Your Colors" campaign by flying the Stars and Stripes in commemoration of the 179th anniversary of the flag's adoption by the Continental Congress on June 14, 1777.

The Elks' leader appealed to civic, fraternal and patriotic groups in the city to fly the flag on its birthday as "an effective way of reaffirming our belief in the American tradition of freedom and self-government."

The Elks' "Show Your Colors" campaign is being conducted throughout the nation by the 1,754 lodges of the order, which has been observing Flag Day since 1907.

"In recent years too many of us have failed to give any outward sign of our patriotism," Douds declared. "The flagstaffs before too many homes have been bare on patriotic occasions. It is time every good American made known his love of freedom and his pride in citizenship."

THE IMMEDIATE predecessor of the Stars and Stripes, according to historians, was the Grand Union Flag which closely resembled the British ensign. Designed by a Continental Congress committee composed of Benjamin Franklin, Benjamin Harrison and Thomas Lynch in 1775, this flag had 13 alternate red and white stripes and the Cross of St. George and St. Andrew on a blue field.

The Continental Congress did not take up the business of authorizing a flag for the 13 colonies until nearly a year after they had declared their independence from the British crown. On June 14, 1777 the Continental Congress resolved that the young Republic's banner should have "13 stars, white on a blue field, representing a new constellation." Old Glory was born.

Dogs' Heads Show No Trace Of Rabies

Heads of two dogs, sent to the State Health Department laboratories in Columbus after the animals died under suspicious circumstances, showed no evidence of rabies, John Todd, Fayette County sanitarian, said Thursday.

The dogs, both hounds, were owned by Edward Lyons, 722 Delaware St. One died last Sunday, and, when the other became ill, police were called Monday. The dog was dead when officers arrived, and the heads of both were turned over to the health department.

Veterinarians Here To Attend Meeting

Dr. Joseph A. McCoy, 225 North Main Street, Washington C. H., vice-president of the Ohio State Veterinary Medical Association and Dr. R. D. Little, Maple Street, Jeffersonville, a member of the executive committee will attend a special meeting of this policy making body during the 25th annual veterinary conference when it convenes in Columbus June 13 and 14.

This conference will serve as a refresher course in regard to recent developments in veterinary medicine and animal diseases.

In 1900 7 1/2 million Americans owned their homes compared with 25 million today.

Cypriot Official Shot; Curfew On

NICOSIA, Cyprus — Andreas Sergides, a Greek Cypriot government official, was shot dead today as he entered the commissioner's office in Limassol.

A curfew was clamped on the town while security forces searched for the killer.

Sergides, a district commissioner inspector, was shot three times.

In Famagusta, three gasoline bombs were thrown at a house of a British soldier. They caused no casualties or damage.

Driver Is Held After Mishap

Another Fined As Crash Result

Isaac Stewart, 53, Chillicothe, formerly of Washington C. H., who was taken into custody by the police late Wednesday afternoon, following a traffic mishap on E. Court St. and is now facing a series of charges, including driving while drunk.

Stewart, who has spent most of his life in this county, was driving west on Court Street, and side-swiped a car owned by Mitchell Mossbarger of Leesburg and parked on the north side of Court St. in front of Porter's Bakery.

Stewart was charged with driving while drunk, leaving the scene of an accident and driving while his license was revoked. His case will come up in Municipal Court later this week.

Arrests made here Wednesday included

Robert Edwin West, reckless operation and Ronald D. Tait, Richard Garringer, Sherman W. Wilson, and Donald C. Bowsher, running red lights;

In Municipal Court Thursday, Frank Holster, 63, Williamsport, was fined $300 and costs, given 30 days in jail and suspended from driving for a year as result of a collision in West Holland last week. Mrs. Eugene B. Bach was injured severely in the crash.

Of the fine, $100 was suspended providing he pays within 60 days, the hospital and medical expenses of Mrs. Bach.

Loren W. Wharton, on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct, was fined $50 and costs and given 10 days in jail. Judge Max G. Dice suspended the fine and jail sentence providing Wharton refrains from excessive drinking and disorderliness for six months.

Private Beach To Be Posted

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. — The owner of a mile-long section of private beach five miles north of this resort city said he will post the property against Negro bathers.

Phil Phillips, owner of a sea food restaurant, said Negroes have been using the beach without permission on weekends for some time.

He said Wednesday night he was posting the property "because it's come to the point that I can't even get on my own beach."

Huge Sea Turtle Seen In Atlantic

CHATHAM, Mass. — There's a new "sea monster" loose in the North Atlantic.

The Liberian freighter Rhapsody Wednesday night reported the presence of a 45-foot, white-spotted sea turtle in the ocean south of Nova Scotia.

The Coast Guard warned all navigation to be on the alert for the giant reptile which, said the Coast Guard, has 15-foot long flippers and can rise eight feet above the surface of the sea.

Lakes Cruise Ships Set For New Season

DETROIT — Two Great Lakes cruise ships, the S. S. North American and the S. S. South American of the Georgian Bay Line, will make weekly sailings from Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo and Duluth beginning June 16.

Each ship sails over 2,200 miles during each seven-day cruise of America's Inland Seas. The two liners, the only remaining cruise ships operating out of U. S. Great Lakes ports, have accommodations for 500 passengers.

Mackinac Island is one of the many unusual ports-of-call on these cruises. Georgian Bay with its 30,000 islands, the scenic St. Mary's River, the "Soo" locks and the cruise through Lake Superior with stops at Menisung on the rugged coast of Lake Superior and at Houghton in the copper country of Michigan enroute to Duluth also provide travel interest.

These all-expense seven-day cruises may be started at Buffalo, Cleveland or Detroit on either ship.

Red Boss Likes US Comparison

MOSCOW — Communist party secretary Nikita Khrushchev said in a speech published today it is "a pat on the back" for the Soviet Union to be compared with the United States as one of the world's two great powers.

He made the statement June 2 in a sendoff speech in the Kremlin to young Communists about to leave for Siberia in the campaign to industrialize that barren area.

But said Khrushchev, "the time will soon come when all will say, 'The greatest powers are the countries that build their economy on socialism.'"

GOP Chief Feels Dem Case Hopeless

WASHINGTON — Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said today the now concluded presidential primaries showed the "internal weaknesses, the inconsistencies, the bickering and squabbling that beset Democrats."

He said no Republican "need say any more" about Adlai Stevenson front runner in delegate strength for the Democratic presidential nomination, than has already been said "by his own colleague," Sen. Estes Kefauver.

Hall's remarks obviously referred to the Tennessee senator's attacks on Stevenson's stands on segregation, and Kefauver's contention that Stevenson could not win in November if nominated.

Lorain County Deputy Improves

Washington C. H. officers said Thursday that word from University Hospital where Deputy Sheriff Steve J. Mohowski has been a patient since he was wounded critically in a gun battle with Patrolman Lang Laytart here on May 23, indicates that the man is showing steady improvement.

It was announced that he is now off of the critical list and has a good chance of recovering from the bullet wound in his head.

The warrant here in which he is charged with shooting to kill Patrolman Laytart is being held in

abeyance until he is sufficiently recovered to face the charges here, it was pointed out.

APPEAL IS LOST

WILMINGTON — The Court of Appeals has sustained the lower court in finding Elton Farren guilty on a criminal charge of destroying a tree in Sugar Grove Cemetery. The case was remanded to the lower court for execution of sentence.

WCH Man Hospitalized After Drinking Caustic

Richard Gray, 29, of 1204 Grace St., was removed to University Hospital, Columbus, Thursday afternoon after he swallowed a caustic cleaning compound at his home.

Gray, who told Sheriff Orland Hays he drank a quantity of Drano, was taken to Memorial Hospital about 11:40 A. M. and later transferred to the Columbus hospital. A Gerstner ambulance was used. Hospital attaches expressed belief that Gray, who has been in ill health, will recover.

Elks Campaign For Flag Day

Show Colors June 14, Lodge Officials Urge

Samuel W. Douds, exalted ruler of Washington C. H. Elks Lodge No. 129 today called for a community-wide demonstration of loyalty to flag and country on Flag Day, June 14.

Douds urges every citizen to cooperate in the Elks' "Show Your Colors" campaign by flying the Stars and Stripes in commemoration of the 179th anniversary of the flag's adoption by the Continental Congress on June 14, 1777.

The Elks' leader appealed to civic, fraternal and patriotic groups in the city to fly the flag on its birthday as "an effective way of reaffirming our belief in the American tradition of freedom and self-government."

The Elks "Show Your Colors" campaign is being conducted throughout the nation by the 1,754 lodges of the order, which has been observing Flag Day since 1907.

"In recent years too many of us have failed to give any outward sign of our patriotism," Douds declared. "The flagstaffs before too many homes have been bare on patriotic occasions. It is time every good American made known his love of freedom and his pride in citizenship."

THE IMMEDIATE predecessor of the Stars and Stripes, according to historians, was the Grand Union Flag which closely resembled the British ensign. Designed by a Continental Congress committee composed of Benjamin Franklin, Benjamin Harrison and Thomas Lynch in 1775, this flag had 13 alternate red and white stripes and the Cross of St. George and St. Andrew on a blue field.

The Continental Congress did not take up the business of authorizing a flag for the 13 colonies until nearly a year after they had declared their independence from the British crown. On June 14, 1777 the Continental Congress resolved that the young Republic's banner should have "13 stars, white on a blue field, representing a new constellation." Old Glory was born.

Dogs' Heads Show No Trace Of Rabies

Heads of two dogs, sent to the State Health Department laboratories in Columbus after the animals died under suspicious circumstances, showed no evidence of rabies, John Todd, Fayette County sanitarian, said Thursday.

The dogs, both hounds, were owned by Edward Lyons, 722 Delaware St. One died last Sunday, and, when the other became ill, police were called Monday. The dog was dead when officers arrived, and the heads of both were turned over to the health department.

Veterinarians Here To Attend Meeting

Dr. Joseph A. McCoy, 225 North Main Street, Washington C. H., vice-president of the Ohio State Veterinary Medical Association and Dr. R. D. Little, Maple Street, Jeffersonville, a member of the executive committee will attend a special meeting of this policy making body during the 25th annual veterinary conference when it convenes in Columbus June 13 and 14.

This conference will serve as a refresher course in regard to recent developments in veterinary medicine and animal diseases.

Driver Is Held After Mishap

Another Fined As Crash Result

Isaac Stewart, 53, Chillicothe, formerly of Washington C. H., who was taken into custody by the police late Wednesday afternoon, following a traffic mishap on E. Court St., and is now facing a series of charges, including driving while drunk.

Stewart, who has spent most of his life in this county, was driving west on Court Street, and side-swiped a car owned by Mitchell Mossbarger of Leesburg and parked on the north side of Court St. in front of Porter's Bakery.

Stewart was charged with driving while drunk, leaving the scene of an accident and driving while his license was revoked. His case will come up in Municipal Court later this week.

Arrests made here Wednesday included

Robert Edwin West, reckless operation and Ronald D. Tait, Richard Garringer, Sherman W. Wilson, and Donald C. Bowsher, running red lights.

In Municipal Court Thursday, Frank Holster, 63, Williamsport, was fined $300 and costs, given 30 days in jail and suspended from driving for a year as result of a collision in West Holland last week.

Mrs. Eugene B. Bach was injured severely in the crash.

Of the fine, $100 was suspended providing he pays within 60 days, the hospital and medical expenses of Mrs. Bach.

Loren W. Wharton, on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct, was fined $50 and costs and given 10 days in jail. Judge Max G. Dice suspended the fine and jail sentence providing Wharton refrains from excessive drinking and disorderliness for six months.

Private Beach To Be Posted

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The owner of a mile-long section of private beach five miles north of this resort city said he will post the property against Negro bathers.

Phil Phillips, owner of a sea food restaurant, said Negroes have been using the beach without permission on weekends for some time.

Huge Sea Turtle Seen In Atlantic

CHATHAM, Mass. (AP)—There's a new "sea monster" loose in the North Atlantic.

The Liberian freighter Rhapsody Wednesday night reported the presence of a 45-foot, white-spotted sea turtle in the ocean south of Nova Scotia.

The Coast Guard warned all navigation to be on the alert for the giant reptile which, said the Coast Guard, has 15-foot long flippers and can rise eight feet above the surface of the sea.

Lakes Cruise Ships Set For New Season

DETROIT — Two Great Lakes cruise ships, the S. S. North American and the S. S. South American of the Georgian Bay Line, will make weekly sailings from Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo and Duluth beginning June 16.

Each ship sails over 2,200 miles during each seven-day cruise of America's Inland Seas. The two liners, the only remaining cruise ships operating out of U. S. Great Lakes ports, have accommodations for 500 passengers.

Mackinac Island is one of the many unusual ports-of-call on these cruises. Georgian Bay with its 30,000 islands, the scenic St. Mary's River, the "Soo" locks and the cruise through Lake Superior with stops at Muriel on the rugged coast of Lake Superior and at Houghton in the copper country of Michigan enroute to Duluth also provide travel interest.

These all-expense seven-day cruises may be started at Buffalo, Cleveland or Detroit on either ship.

Red Boss Likes US Comparison

MOSCOW (AP)—Communist party secretary Nikita Khrushchev said in a speech published today it is "a pat on the back" for the Soviet Union to be compared with the United States as one of the world's two great powers.

He made the statement June 2 in a sendoff speech in the Kremlin to young Communists about to leave for Siberia in the campaign to industrialize that barren area.

But said Khrushchev, "the time will soon come when all will say, 'The greatest powers are the countries that build their economy on socialism.'"

Lorain County Deputy Improves

Washington C. H. officers said Thursday that word from University Hospital where Deputy Sheriff Steve J. Mohowski has been a patient since he was wounded critically in a gun battle with Patrolman Lang Laytart here on May 23, indicates that the man is showing steady improvement.

It was announced that he is now off of the critical list and has a good chance of recovering from the bullet wound in his head.

The warrant here in which he is charged with shooting to kill Patrolman Laytart is being held in abeyance until he is sufficiently recovered to face the charges here, it was pointed out.

APPEAL IS LOST

WILMINGTON — The Court of Appeals has sustained the lower court in finding Elon Farren guilty on a criminal charge of destroying a tree in Sugar Grove Cemetery. The case was remanded to the lower court for execution of sentence.

Oregon has almost 54,000 acres of state parks.

WCH Man Hospitalized After Drinking Caustic

Richard Gray, 29, of 1204 Grace St., was removed to University Hospital, Columbus, Thursday afternoon after he swallowed a caustic cleaning compound at his home.

Gray, who told Sheriff Orland Hays he drank a quantity of Drano, was taken to Memorial Hospital about 11:40 A. M. and later transferred to the Columbus hospital. A Gerstner ambulance was used. Hospital attaches expressed belief that Gray, who has been in ill health, will recover.
